Little Commotion Caused by Court's Ruling on Prayer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court's sweeping decision outlawing required Bible readings and the recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public schools appeared today to have been accepted with little commotion in or out of Congress.

The ruling, affecting thousands of classrooms all across the land, was obviously expected, however, in view of the court's action last year against use of a non-denominational prayer composed by the New York authorities for the state's public schools.

That decision brought down a storm of criticism on the tribunal, especially from Congress.

But congressional reaction to Monday's 8 to 1 ruling was comparatively mild. Generally, the feeling seemed to be that interpreting the laws and the Constitution was the court's job.

"The Supreme Court has its function and we have ours," commented Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, a Catholic.

Many state officials, meanwhile hurriedly read the decision to see if it required changes in their public schools. Thirty-nine states now allow morning devotional exercises in public schools. Many clergymen stressed a greater importance of religious instruction in churches and homes.

The court, acting on cases from Pennsylvania and Maryland, specifically barred Bible-reading and the recital of the Lord's Prayer as part of required classroom exercises in public schools.

But there appeared to be no room under the decision for a teacher to hold such exercises on her own since public school teachers are government employees.

"In the relationship between man and religion, the state is firmly committed to neutrality," wrote Justice Tom C. Clark in the majority opinion.

He said the decision in no way shows hostility toward religion. "Nothing we have said here," he wrote, "denies the study of the Bible or of religion 'when presented objectively as part of a secular program of education' is prohibited."

The two cases resulted from requirements in Baltimore, Md., and Abingdon, Pa., that public schools be opened daily with devotional exercises. The suits were brought by parents, who, as Unitarians or atheists, said the exercises were offensive to their beliefs.

The court also, in a brief order, set aside a Florida Supreme Court decision which had upheld the practice of opening devotionals in Miami schools.

In another case involving the question of government and religion the tribunal ruled 7 to 2 that a Seventh day Adventist who lost her job for refusing to work on Saturday because of her religious beliefs is entitled to unemployment compensation.

The noticeable lack of congressional reaction to the historic prayer decision was attributed by one leader to the legislators' preoccupation with turmoil over civil rights.

Short of impeachment, there is little Congress could do about the court's ruling anyway, and there were no serious suggestions along that line.

Congress could submit to the states a resolution to change the First Amendment of the Constitution, which deals with the separation of church and state, but there was no strong sentiment for that approach either.

Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., said, however, he would push for such an amendment. He said the court has a trend to "deny the existence of Almighty God, a Supreme Being, in our public schools."

New Dixiecrat Movement Is Given Start

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—"The South shall rise again in 1964" is the rallying cry of 1,000 Southerners backing a move to throw next year's presidential election into the House of Representatives.

They were named charter members Monday night of the Southern Committee to Elect the next President of the United States.

The call—as in the unsuccessful 1948 Dixiecrat movement—was for unity as Govs. Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi and George C. Wallace of Alabama thundered defiance of the federal government.

"The issue is not the South versus the North, Republican versus Democrat or integration versus segregation. The issue is freedom. Freedom is not equal and equal men are not free," the principal speaker, Tom Anderson of Nashville, Tenn., editor of Farm and Ranch magazine, said at the $25-a-plate dinner.

Barnett said "misuse of power" was one of history's great tragedies. He called for a fight against what he termed federal encroachments.

Barnett and his supporters originated the electoral plan and pushed it to passage in the Mississippi Legislature.

It allows state party conventions to name two slates of presidential electors, which would be presented in a primary after the national nominating conventions, one slate loyalist and one unpledged.

River Cargo Booming

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The amount of cargo carried by Ohio River barges reached a new high in 1962, the U.S. Army Engineers say. The barges carried 85,306,058 tons—twice as much as in 1948.

A LANDMARK DECISION—Mrs. Madalyn Murray of Baltimore (right), her son, William, and her mother, Mrs. Bonna Mays, stand in front of the Supreme Court minutes after the high tribunal ruled unconstitutional the use of the Lord's Prayer and Bible reading as part of required classroom exercises in public schools. The case was started by the Murrys.

Goodyear Co. Announces Plans For Plant Operation at Logan

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. has announced plans to relocate its Akron production facilities for padded interior auto trim to Logan. Indications are the new operation will initially employ about 300.

The move follows a four-month search for a new site for a plant, according to officials of the corporation.

They cited the adequate labor supply of the Hocking County seat, the abundance of water, good highway and rail transportation, the central location, industrial and residential potential and the active interest of a local civic group as prime reasons for the selection of Logan.

The civic group referred to is the Logan Trade Club that will build the new one-story plant at an estimated cost of $800,000 on Route 33 in the southeast section of the city. The building will be leased to Goodyear.

THE TRADE CLUB has been the focal point of industrial development in the city for the past 10 years.

Temporary quarters for production will be set up soon in the county highway building, donated for the purpose by the Hocking County Commissioners.

The new building is slated to be completed in December. Production facilities will be moved there in January.

John Gerstenmaier, manager of the new plant, is scheduled to arrive in Logan tomorrow.

The Akron plant employed 300 persons. However the size of the operation has not officially been announced at the new location. Unofficial sources indicated it will be larger than that conducted at the Akron plant.

The department's present quarters will revert to warehouse space. The department was originated in Akron seven years ago.

Steel Union Says Accord Not in Sight

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Months of informal talks have failed to bring a contract agreement with the basic steel industry, the United Steelworkers Union said today. But it took no action to reopen the contracts, which would pose a strike threat, pending further discussions.

Under the basic steel pacts, the union has been free since May 1 to demand formal collective bargaining and to strike 90 days after such reopening. It has held off in hopes that an agreement can be achieved without strike-pressure negotiations.

David J. McDonald, president of the union, told newsmen after a 35-minute session of the Wage Policy Committee, "We have not cleared any decks on either economic or noneconomic matters."

McDonald said he had hoped to have recommendations for the Wage Policy Committee to act upon.

McDonald said he would get in touch with the steel industry immediately and attempt to arrange another meeting of the Labor-Management Human Relations Committee.

"I have not given up hope," McDonald said, "I never give up hope."

McDonald said the 34-man International Executive Board would meet again at 11 a.m. Wednesday, presumably in anticipation that he might have something new to present. The 164-member Wage Policy Committee then will meet at 2 p.m.

Ben-Gurion To Retain Seat in Parliament

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—David Ben-Gurion, Israel's leader for most of its 15 years, has changed his mind about leaving Parliament.

But he is sticking to his decision to quit the premiership, his Socialist Mapai party said Monday.

Ben-Gurion cited personal reasons in announcing his resignation Sunday.

4-Vehicle Crash Is Fatal to Trio

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—A collision of two cars and two trucks on Ohio 8 Monday night killed three Tuscarawas County residents.

The state highway patrol said two cars pulled onto the highway from a tavern parking lot and both were struck by an oil tank truck. Another truck piled into the wreckage. The accident occurred near Mineral City.

The dead were Twyla Butt, 24, and Verna Kiser, 60, both of New Philadelphia, who were riding in one car, and Donald L. Witham, 33, of Sandyville, who was driving the other.

The two truck drivers, Robert Gintz, 49, of Dover, and Charles Ault, 30, of R. D. 1, Mineral City, escaped injury. Harry Ault, 26, a passenger in the truck which ran into the wreckage, was hospitalized with face cuts.

President Readies New Civil Rights Proposal

Planning Body To Meet Here On Thursday

Tentative members of the Pickaway County Regional Planning Commission will meet Thursday for its initial session since the body was organized here.

Notification letters have been sent to personnel who will represent the various subdivisions within the county. The group will assemble 8 p. m. at the Common Pleas Courtroom in the Court-house.

There have been no definite indications exactly what business will be transacted when the Commission convenes for its first meeting. It is presumed the panel will name officers and an executive committee in initial action.

According to articles of agreement already approved, officers would include a chairman, vice chairman and secretary. An executive committee would consist of the chairman and five members appointed by the commission to include one County Commissioner, one member from the Circleville Planning and Zoning Commission, one member selected from the other municipalities and two selected from township trustee members.

ADDITIONAL steps would call for this executive committee to establish a program and set plans for conducting it.

A Citizens Advisory Committee on planning and zoning which met several times during the past few months approved formation of a regional planning commission April 11 of this year. Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners moved to accept the general organization plan on April 30.

The articles of agreement provide that the overall regional commission membership would consist of the three County Commissioners, the County Engineer or his representative, three from the city of Circleville appointed by its Planning Commission, one from each of the other municipalities appointed by their respective planning commissions and one from each of the townships appointed by their respective board of trustees.

Soviet Flier Sets Record For Orbiting

MOSCOW (AP)—Lt. Col. Valery Bykovsky broke all world records today for distance and orbits around the world in space. But his ship was losing altitude.

His female space partner, Valentina Tereshkova, whirled into her third day in orbit, apparently still maintaining her altitude and speed. She reported she was feeling fine.

At 3 p.m. Moscow time Bykovsky entered his fifth day in space and surpassed by two orbits the 64-orbit record set by his fellow cosmonaut, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev, in a flight of just under four days last August.

A bulletin broadcast at 5 p.m. said Bykovsky's ship was 119.9 miles from the earth at maximum distance and 98.7 miles at minimum distance.

Both Bykovsky and Miss Tereshkova appeared on television screens.

The broadcasts gave no hint that either was preparing to descend. There had been indications that the colonel's flight was drawing to a close, and that Valentina would return to earth soon after him.

Western observers said that the dwindling orbit of Bykovsky in his Vostok 5 capsule could make it dangerous for him to remain in space much longer.

They speculated that the change might be due to a maneuver but they had no idea of its purpose.

Tractor Tire Kills Tot

Boston Negroes Hail Boycott

BOSTON (AP)—Negro leaders termed the boycott of Boston's junior and senior high schools a success today and estimated that 3,000 Negro pupils skipped classes in a protest of alleged segregation. Negro leaders called for the boycott—which they would not term a boycott—as a rebuttal to what they termed "de facto segregation" in the public schools.

At St. Mark's Social Center, across the street from Boston Technical High School, an estimated 250 junior and senior high school pupils jammed the building. The overflow flooded into the street. Buses took pupils to the other nine "freedom centers" where special classes were held for the Negroes.

Uniformed police maintained vigilance at each of Tech's six entrances.

There are an estimated 5,000 Negroes among the 14,000 pupils in the city's junior and senior high schools.

Negro leaders—some of whom rode in police cars with top police officials—said they expected no violence.

The heart of the protest, said the leaders, is the demand that the Boston school committee publicly admit there is actual segregation in Boston schools. This motion has been rejected 3-2 by the school board.

Protest leaders asked Negro parents to keep their junior and senior high school children out of the public schools today to protest what they called "de facto segregation" or segregation in actuality if not by law.

Both Louise Day Hicks, School Committee chairman, and Dr. Frederick J. Gillis, superintendent of schools, had expressed fears of violence.

"The grave responsibility for the boycott now rests very heavily on the shoulders of the NAACP and the Citizens for Human Rights," Mrs. Hicks said.

Gillis said his office had received many reports of threats of violence to children in connection with the boycott.

The School Committee called on State Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, a Negro, to advise Negro leaders of the state's compulsory education laws. Brooke was not in his office Monday, a local holiday, and could not be reached for comment.

The boycott would involve about 5,000 of the city's 14,000 Negro pupils. There are 93,000 pupils in the Boston schools.

"This is the start of a process of involving students and parents in the making of democracy," the Rev. James Breeden, a leader in the movement said Monday night.

"This is just the beginning. It will increase and spread."

Herbert Hoover Remains 'Very Seriously Ill'

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover, 88, still very seriously ill, was reported to have made some improvement Monday.

Doctors said his fever was less and his heart action more regular. "There has been no further bleeding from the gastro-intestinal tract," they said.

Hoover was operated on for cancer last August. He is being treated by four doctors in his suite in the Waldorf Towers.

House Panel OKs Extra Time For Decision on Tax Relief

WASHINGTON (AP)—House tax writers have shuffled their schedule to give themselves more time for their big decision on cutting tax rates—and to see if they can pick up more offsetting revenue.

It may now be three weeks before the Ways and Means Committee votes on including in its draft of a tax bill some substitute for the present 20 to 91 per cent range of personal income tax rates.

Kennedy proposed 14 to 65 per cent, but with offsetting changes that would soak up some of the tax relief; this would leave a net reduction of $10.2 billion.

The committee has compiled figures on ranges like 15 to 70 or 75 per cent and has batted down most of the administration's revenue increasing ideas.

On balance, the changes it has approved so far make little difference in government income. The net is an estimated gain of some $35 million a year.

Education Plan Is Labeled Key

Congress To Receive Message Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Democratic congressional leaders conferred on the civil rights issue today and came up with a proposal to stimulate vocational education and retraining of workers.

This the leaders said, will be part of the civil rights package Kennedy will present to Congress Wednesday. But eventually it may take the form of separate legislation, they said.

Retraining and vocational education fit into the problem of how to handle the racial issue because a larger proportion of Negroes than whites is unemployed and a larger proportion is unskilled labor.

The Kennedy-leadership conference was one of a series at a time when the administration's efforts to solve the racial question are drawing a broad, varied reaction. Some persons think the President is not doing enough fast enough and others say he is moving too far and too swiftly.

Ten governors were invited to the White House for lunch with the President and discussions were certain to focus on civil rights.

The President talks civil rights Wednesday with leaders in the education field and on Friday with lawyers from over the nation.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told reporters that the vocation education and retraining proposal might go into a separate bill.

Monday's conferences produced opposing views from white and Negro churchmen on Kennedy's proposal for an interfaith racial committee, and some disagreement from Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen on the planned civil rights proposals to Congress.

Dirksen said, however, that "there is an area of agreement on a number of items."

The point which may give Kennedy the most trouble in the expected rugged battle over his civil rights legislation is the proposal to outlaw segregation of accommodations, facilities and services of private business. Dirksen doesn't go along with him on this.

Barn Fire Loss Said Heavy

BULLETIN
Several area fire departments rushed to the Defenbaugh farm in Salter Creek Twp. at about 1 p. m. today to battle a huge barn fire.

Early estimates of damage were set between $65-70,000. The farm, a part of the estate of the late William Defenbaugh, is located in the vicinity of the Taiton-Adelphi Road.

Cause of the blaze was not determined at press time today. Electric power was reported off in the area.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told reporters that the vocational education and retraining proposal might go into a separate bill.

Monday's conferences produced opposing views from white and Negro churchmen on Kennedy's proposal for an interfaith racial committee, and some disagreement from Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen on the planned civil rights proposals to Congress.

Dirksen said, however, that "there is an area of agreement on a number of items."

The point which may give Kennedy the most trouble in the expected rugged battle over his civil rights legislation is the proposal to outlaw segregation of accommodations, facilities and services of private business. Dirksen doesn't go along with him on this.

Barn Fire Loss Said Heavy

BULLETIN

Several area fire departments rushed to the Defenbaugh farm in Salter Creek Twp. at about 1 p.m. today to battle a huge barn fire.

Early estimates of damage were set between $65-70,000. The farm, a part of the estate of the late William Defenbaugh, is located in the vicinity of the Turlon-Adelphi Road.

Cause of the blaze was not determined at press time today. Electric power was reported off in the area.

Ohio Bishop OKs Decision

But Fellow Methodist Deplores Prayer Rule

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bishop Hazen G. Werner of the Ohio Methodist Conference says that from a constitutional view, the U.S. Supreme Court was on "firm ground" in making its ruling Monday on prayers and Bible reading in public schools.

"They could not do otherwise. The issue here is that a state government cannot require the use of specified religious materials in schools supported by public funds," the bishop said in a statement.

He continued: "Such a decision should not be taken as hostility by the court toward religion, because it does not outlaw prayer and Bible reading in the public schools, but only the legalistic approach represented in governmental prescribed and directed requirements."

The Rev. Merrill H. Mellott, pastor of the Village Park Methodist Church here and chaplain of the Ohio Senate, expressed a divergent view in his prayer opening Monday night's Senate session.

This is the text of the prayer, which brought a flurry of congratulations from Senate members:

"O God, may we this night express our dismay at the turning of events in our national history. We stand before you, a bewildered and divided people.

"It appears O God that you offend people and therefore, Lord, we would ask you to permit us to divorce ourselves from you, all in the name of separation of church and state.

"Help us God, if we have become so strong, so wise, so perfect, that we no longer need Godly counsel.

"And forgive us for breaching the Constitution of the United States as we pause in this moment of reverence and prayer. Amen."

Maryland Negroes Seek Negotiation

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—Negroes say they will demonstrate again tonight in this troubled Maryland community unless white leaders resume negotiations with them at 8 p.m.

Philip Savage, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told a wildly cheering crowd of some 450 Negroes Monday night "The National Guard must not withstanding, the governor of the state not withstanding, and the federal government not withstanding, we're going to march tomorrow. We'll have 1,000 people marching if necessary."

Scouters Meet In Home of Harry Diehl

Fifteen Scouters attended the meeting of the Pickaway District Scout Committee yesterday evening at the home of Harry Diehl, district chairman.

New members welcomed were Wes Edstrom Jr. and Nick Melvin, a former Pickaway Scouter. Institutional representatives present were Ray Hooks of Troop 179 and Clark Hunsicker of Pack 179, sponsored by the Williamsport First Methodist Church and Veterans of Foreign Wars; Tom Hartsaugh of Pack 484, sponsored by the Salt Creek Township Parent-Teacher Organization, and Jim Peters of Troop 170, sponsored by the Circleville First Lutheran Church. Gary Wimmer, associate advisor, represented Explorer Post 3, sponsored by the Circleville Rotary Club.

District committeemen attending were Eugene Dowler and Joe Bell of the Leadership Training Committee; Dan Crabtree, Organization and Extension; Gerald Ayers, Cubbing Activities; Charles Hart, Health and Safety; Emerson Cline, member-at-large; and David Amos, public relations.

Dan Crabtree announced that Troop 52, sponsored by Circleville First Methodist Church, plans to attend the new Camp Greenhills at Logan, the week of July 21. Clark Hunsicker stated that Troop 179 will also be at Greenhills that week.

Harry Diehl reviewed the schedule of Scouters meetings which will begin this fall. The District Roundtable for scoutmasters and their assistants, den mothers and cubmasters, troop committeemen, neighborhood commissioners, institutional representatives and district committeemen will be the first Wednesday of each month beginning in August. District committeemen and institutional representatives will meet the third Monday monthly. The district commissioner will meet with neighborhood commissioners during the fourth week each month.

Preparing Camp Lazarus before and after the summer camping season is one of the useful services performed annually by the Order of the Arrow, scouting's honorary camping organization. Once a year, scout troop nominates one of every five of its members for Order of the Arrow membership.

Harry Diehl showed colored slides of his recent fishing trips in the Ogema Section of Ontario, Canada and Mrs. Diehl served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

VFW Sponsors Safety Program

Circleville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3331 is sponsoring a "light a bike" program this week in the Circleville area.

Assisting with the safety program will be the Circleville Fire Department. Merle Thomas, VFW spokesman, said firemen will place luminous tape on bicycles.

All youths are asked to take their bikes this week to the rear of the fire department to receive the tape that will reflect light at night. There will be no charge for this service, Thomas added.

A stolen car, belonging to Grover Bainter of Lancaster, was recovered at Meade yesterday where it had been abandoned, it was reported by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Through the Alliance for Progress, Guatemala has received $19.3 million in U.S. assistance since the joint program began.

Police had used trained dogs recently to help break up demonstrations for civil rights. There has never been an incidence of use of dogs for such purpose in Ohio.

Carney said that Youngstown police recently had asked city officials for funds to purchase and train such dogs.

Missing Youths Return Home

Two Portsmouth youths, missing since Friday, returned home yesterday, according to a report from the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

The lads, Garrett King Jr. and James Stiltner, both 12, returned home "of their own free will, according to the report."

They visited a sister in South Bloomfield Friday evening; and started back for Portsmouth. Authorities were given the "missing persons" report Saturday.

Details on where the juveniles had been were not available.

Youngster Injured

Mark Garner, 8 son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Garner, 127 Logan St. fell from his bike yesterday and lacerated his face. He received emergency treatment at Berger Hospital and was released.

Education Plan

One white Southern religious leader, Dr. Albert Garner, reportedly told Kennedy "we have deep moral and religious convictions that integration of the races is morally wrong and should be resisted."

Dr. Garner, president of the Florida Baptist Institute and Seminary of Lakeland, Fla., said many people in Florida "do not accept in silence back home and will not accept at the polls, the segregation - be - damned attitude they feel is now being pressed upon them by intimidation and threats of federal agencies."

Another conferee, the Rev. Dan Potter of New York, said Kennedy's proposal for an interfaith council met with a generally enthusiastic response.

But a Negro leader, the Rev. Ralph Abernathy of Atlanta, said Kennedy's hope that such a council would encourage community leaders to seek better race relations would be like "putting vaseline on a cancer" in such states as Alabama and Mississippi.

He added, "We must have more action by the federal government." He said he wanted Kennedy to "come South on a goodwill tour and interpret the law of the land."

33 Tax Liens Filed against Delinquents

Delinquent personal property tax liens were filed today against 33 owners in the County Recorder's office.

The liens were filed by the County Auditor's office. Money involved amounts to $11,326.33.

The action, as provided by state statute, places the documents as liens against the real estate of owners declared delinquent in paying their personal property tax. The liens cover the last half tax settlement for 1962, according to the Auditor's office.

The liens filed today, however, show a marked decrease from those recorded for the last half settlement of 1961. Filed that year were 68 liens involving $39,358.62.

USE OF POLICE DOGS
On Mobs Opposed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Charles J. Carney, D-Youngstown, introduced a bill Monday in the Ohio Senate calling for outlawing use of police dogs to control or disperse mass gatherings in Ohio.

The senator said he took the action to prevent any occurrence in Ohio of happenings such as those reported recently in Birmingham, Ala.

Police had used trained dogs recently to help break up demonstrations for civil rights. There has never been an incidence of use of dogs for such purpose in Ohio.

Carney said that Youngstown police recently had asked city officials for funds to purchase and train such dogs.

Man Is Fined $200, Jailed on OMVI Charge

Charles Ray Mann, 127 1/2 W. Main St., was handed a $200 fine, sentenced to five days in jail and had his operator's license suspended for one year by Municipal Court Judge Sterling M. Lamb.

Charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants, Mann was apprehended by the State Highway Patrol after South Bloomfield police radioed he was traveling south on Route 23 at a high rate of speed. He reportedly forced two cars off the highway.

Cited by the OSP for failure to have an operator's license and driving left of center was Merritt B. Van Antwerp of Ashville. He entered pleas of guilty to both charges and was fined a total of $100 and costs by Judge Lamb.

In other court action the following motorists signed waivers and paid the fines levied.

George F. McClary, Obetz; $30 and costs for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car.
Ted Branham, 41, Continental, 70 and costs for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Scouters Meet In Home of Harry Diehl

Fifteen Scouters attended the meeting of the Pickaway District Scout Committee yesterday evening at the home of Harry Diehl, district chairman.

New members welcomed were Wes Edstrom Jr. and Nick Melvin, a former Pickaway Scouter. Institutional representatives present were Ray Hooks of Troop 179 and Clark Hunsicker of Pack 179, sponsored by the Williamsport First Methodist Church and Veterans of Foreign Wars; Tom Hartsaugh of Pack 484, sponsored by the Saltcreek Township Parent-Teacher Organization, and Jim Peters of Troop 170, sponsored by the Circleville First Lutheran Church. Gary Winner, associate advisor, represented Explorer Post 3, sponsored by the Circleville Rotary Club.

District committeemen attending were Eugene Dowler and Joe Bell of the Leadership Training Committee; Dan Crabtree, Organization and Extension; Gerald Ayers, Cubbing Activities; Charles Hart, Health and Safety; Emerson Cline, member-at-large; and David Amos, public relations.

Dan Crabtree announced that Troop 52, sponsored by Circleville First Methodist Church, plans to attend the new Camp Greenhills at Logan, the week of July 21. Clark Hunsicker stated that Troop 179 will also be at Greenhills that week.

Harry Diehl reviewed the schedule of Scouters meetings which will begin this fall. The District Roundtable for scoutmasters and their assistants, den mothers and cubmasters, troop committeemen, neighborhood commissioners, institutional representatives and district committeemen will be the first Wednesday of each month beginning in August. District committeemen and institutional representatives will meet the third Monday monthly. The district commissioner will meet with neighborhood commissioners during the fourth week each month.

VFW Sponsors Safety Program

Circleville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3331 is sponsoring a "light a bike" program this week in the Circleville area.

Assisting with the safety program will be the Circleville Fire Department. Merle Thomas, VFW spokesman, said firemen will place luminous tape on bicycles.

All youths are asked to take their bikes this week to the rear of the fire department to receive the tape that will reflect light at night. There will be no charge for this service, Thomas added.

Man Is Fined $200, Jailed on OMVI Charge

Charles Ray Mann, 127½ W. Main St., was handed a $200 fine, sentenced to five days in jail and had his operator's license suspended for one year by Municipal Court Judge Sterling M. Lamb.

Charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants, Mann was apprehended by the State Highway Patrol after South Bloomfield police radioed he was traveling south on Route 23 at a high rate of speed. He reportedly forced two cars off the highway.

Cited by the OSP for failure to have an operator's license and driving left of center was Merritt B. Van Antwerp of Ashville. He entered pleas of guilty to both charges and was fined a total of $100 and costs by Judge Lamb.

In other court action the following motorists signed waivers and paid the fines levied.

George F. McClary, Obetz; $30 and costs for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car.

Missing Youths Return Home

Two Portsmouth youths, missing since Friday, returned home yesterday, according to a report from the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

The lads, Garrett King Jr. and James Stultner, both 12, returned home "of their own free will," according to the report.

They visited a sister in South Bloomfield Friday evening; and started back for Portsmouth. Authorities were given the "missing persons" report Saturday.

Details on where the juveniles had been were not available.

Youngster Injured
Mark Garner, 8 son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Garner, 127 Logan St. fell from his bike yesterday and lacerated his face. He received emergency treatment at Berger Hospital and was released.

Education Plan

One white Southern religious leader, Dr. Albert Garner, reportedly told Kennedy "we have deep moral and religious convictions that integration of the races is morally wrong and should be resisted."

Dr. Garner, president of the Florida Baptist Institute and Seminary of Lakeland, Fla., said many people in Florida "do not accept in silence back home and will not accept at the polls, the segregation - be - damned attitude they feel is now being pressed upon them by intimidation and threats of federal agencies."

Another conferee, the Rev. Dan Potter of New York, said Kennedy's proposal for an interfaith council met with a generally enthusiastic response.

But a Negro leader, the Rev. Ralph Abernathy of Atlanta, said Kennedy's hope that such a council would encourage community leaders to seek better race relations would be like "putting vaseline on a cancer" in such states as Alabama and Mississippi.

He added, "We must have more action by the federal government." He said he wanted Kennedy to "come South on a goodwill tour and interpret the law of the land."

33 Tax Liens

Filed against Delinquents

Delinquent personal property tax liens were filed today against 33 owners in the County Recorder's office.

The liens were filed by the County Auditor's office. Money involved amounts to $11,326.33.

The action, as provided by state statute, places the documents as liens against the real estate of owners declared delinquent in paying their personal property tax. The liens cover the last half tax settlement for 1962, according to the Auditor's office.

The liens filed today, however, show a marked decrease from those recorded for the last half settlement of 1961. Filed that year were 68 liens involving $39,358.62.

Abby Offers Extra Advice

Nice Girls Told How To Catch Nice Guys

Abigail Van Buren, this paper's witty "Dear Abby" is offering seven hints for nice girls looking for nice guys.

The McNaught Syndicate writer makes these suggestions:

1. If there is too much of you, edit yourself down. Unless you are suffering from a glandular problem, there's no excuse to convex where you should concave. Be honest with yourself—you are too heavy for only one reason. You eat too much.

2. If there's too little of you, build yourself up: Try padding! There's nothing unusual or dishonest about it. Some well-known Hollywood stars, famed for their fabulous figures, floated up to stardom on foam rubber.

3. Redecorate your face: See a professional beauty consultant, or get advice from a woman acquaintance who knows the art of beauty and makeup and ask her to teach you.

4. Consider your personality objectively: If your best friends won't tell you your weaknesses, consult your enemy. If a man is a talker, be a listener. If he's a listener, talk. Don't argue with him, and if you do, at least make sure you don't win the argument.

5. Fish where the fish are: You won't find a nice guy on a street corner or in a bar. Get a job in an office with a lot of single men. When you vacation, go where men are and don't go with a gang of girls. That'll only scare him away.

6. Live alone and lure 'em: An unmarried woman in her own apartment is usually more attractive to a man with marriage in mind. Women who live alone present an image of an independent, mature, not-so-helpless female. A good wife-type.

7. Finally, change your routine: Join volunteer groups. Take up a hobby. It may do something beautiful for your character—with a man as a happy by-product. And when opportunity comes knocking at your front door, don't be in the backyard looking for four-leaf clovers.

Reds Capitalize On Strife in U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Racial violence in the United States gives the world's Communists a golden harvest of propaganda. They are making the most of it.

Newspapers and radios in Communist ruled countries from China to Cuba have seized enthusiastically upon the events in the U. S. South.

The Communists tell the people of their own countries and the world that what is happening in the United States proves that claims of American freedom and democracy are fraudulent, that American leaders are hypocrites, that American "ruling circles" secretly plot brutal suppression of minorities.

Red propaganda machines are trying to see to it that the events in the United States do Americans and their system the most harm possible. The messages are pounded out day after day in broadcasts to Africa and other areas populated by colored peoples.

Inside Communist ruled countries, the newspapers and radio make the most of dispatches and news pictures of violence in Southern states. Again and again the idea is stressed that violence and hatred show the true face of American democracy, that the race troubles are a natural outgrowth of the system, a "disease of capitalism."

The Soviet press has exhibited a large degree of satisfaction in reporting the events. Often the domestic press reporting of the race troubles from the United States is factual and restrained. But the general tenor of Soviet coverage seems aimed at convincing the Soviets that minorities in their nation—and all working people—are far better off than ordinary people under the American system.

How effective is this propaganda? One example: Friday, in North Korea, a U. S. general asked a Communist general for information on two U. S. pilots forced down in Red territory. The American asked the Communists to "act like men living in the 20th century." The North Korean whipped out a photograph of a police dog lunging at a Negro in Birmingham, Ala. and snapped that it was "the true picture of what you call civilization."

General Phone Company Lists Change for Circleville District

The Circleville district will become a part of General Telephone Co. of Ohio's southern division on July 1 — the result of a change in the company's divisional set up.

Clare E. Williams of Marion, president, announced the company is combining its western and central divisions into one. This move will reduce the divisions from four to three.

Circleville district, now a part of central division, Marion, will be under the jurisdiction of A. C. Purpura, southern division manager at Portsmouth.

Donald F. Colegrove, manager of Circleville district, will continue in his present position.

Headquarters of the new central division will remain in Marion. Named as its new manager is Charles A. Bowen of Celina, present western division manager. He succeeds Edward F. Egg, who will assume duties as special projects administrator in the company's general offices at Marion.

President Williams pointed out the new organization will provide more efficient and effective operation. He noted the exchanges of Circleville district are geographically closer to the southern division.

Offices making up the district including Circleville are: Amanda, Ashville, Baltimore, Laureville, Millersport, Pleasantville and Williamsport.

Circleville district serves almost 12,000 telephones, having facilities in Pickaway, Fairfield, Hocking, Licking, Perry, Ross and Vinton counties.

With the addition of Circleville district, southern division will serve about 92,000 telephones through 71 central offices in 23 counties. Other district offices of the division are: Athens, Georgetown, Portsmouth and Wilmington. Besides central and southern division, the company's third division office is situated at New Philadelphia. The latter division remains unchanged by this reorganization.

Soviet Space Dog Bears Litter of 4 Puppies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pushinka, daughter of Soviet space dog Strelka, is back home at the White House after giving birth to four puppies at a veterinary hospital.

Pushinka, the gift of Soviet Premier Khrushchev to President Kennedy and his family two years ago, was born several months after Strelka's 1960 space trip.

The paternity of the new puppies is a little vague but Caroline Kennedy's terrier, Charlie, may be the daddy.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, June 18, the 169th day of 1963. There are 196 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1798, Congress passed the Naturalization Act which set 14 years' residence as a citizenship qualification for foreigners. That act and the Alien and Sedition Acts passed later inspired immediate and violent reaction.

On this date: In 1778, the British evacuated Philadelphia and retreated across the Delaware into New Jersey, pursued by American troops who broke camp at Valley Forge.

In 1812, the United States declared war on Great Britain.

In 1861, the first telegraph message sent from a balloon was sent to president Abraham Lincoln by professor Thaddeus Lowe.

In 1928, Ronald Amundsen and five companions flew from Tromsø, Norway to rescue survivors of the Noble Expedition but were never heard from again.

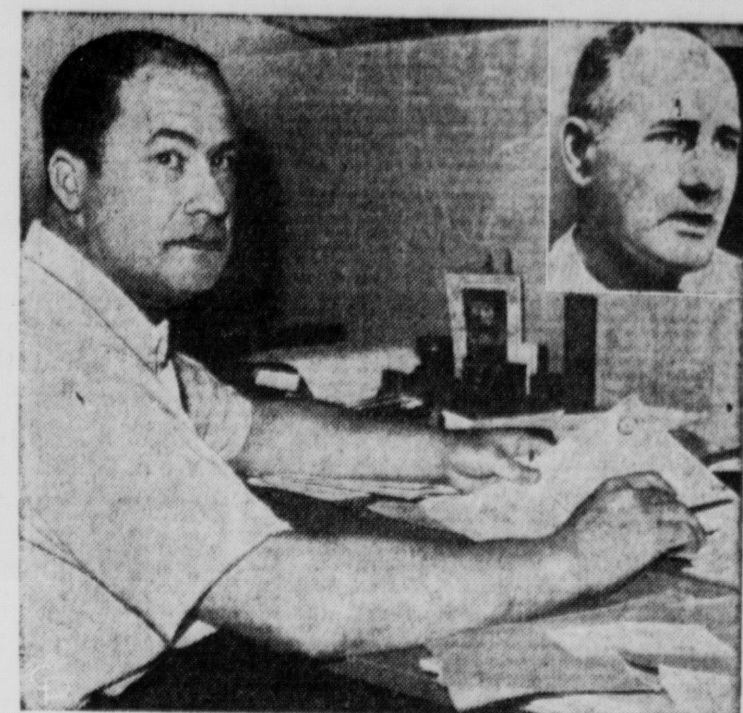

In 1945, U. S. Lt. Gen. Simon Buckner was killed in action on Okinawa in World War II.

Ten years ago: One of aviation's worst disasters killed 192 U. S. servicemen when a U. S. air Force Globemaster transport crashed near Tokyo shortly after takeoff.

Five years ago: President Nasser of the United Arab Republic rejected U. S. appeals that the UAR halt its aid to rebel forces in Lebanon.

One year ago: Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's Conservative party lost its majority in the Canadian House of Commons in nationwide elections.

It's a Revolution, Not Just Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Negroes of America have made President Kennedy and probably a majority of Congress realize that this country is now faced, not with a Negro "problem" but a Negro revolution, according to James (Scotty) Reston, double Pulitzer Prize-winning chief Washington correspondent for The New York Times. Reston continues his observation:

This has changed many things here. It has changed the Administration's order of priorities. It has put the domestic revolution above the cold war on the President's catalogue of urgent business. It has destroyed the official assumption that the race question could be dealt with by political manipulation. It has forced a major bipartisan effort and national educational campaign for new civil rights legislation, probably at the expense of the rest of Kennedy's domestic legislative program.

Before laws and regulations can be changed, attitudes and assumptions have to be changed, and this is what's now happening. Even after the Birmingham crisis, there was an attitude of irritability in the Administration about all the trouble, and maybe even a touch of self-pity.

The Administration seemed to be saying that here it was doing all it could to help the Negroes in the middle of a world crisis and that nobody understood or appreciated its efforts—certainly not the Deep South or the Congress, and not even the Negro leaders or the moderates or the press in the North.

Dr. Kenneth Clark, a psychologist who attended Attorney General Robert Kennedy's meeting in New York three weeks ago, put it this way:

"Suddenly I looked at the attorney general and understood that he did not understand us. We were asking him to stop thinking about this as a special problem of a particular group and to begin to think about it as an American problem."

Well, the President and his brother are thinking of it as an American problem now. That is the change.

What the Administration assumed before was that Negro resentment would abate with token progress and hope, but the combination of resentment and hope is even more compelling than resentment alone. For, as Reinhold Niebuhr has pointed out, "revolutionary movements become more revolutionary in the process of their success."

This idea has encouraged a second, namely, that a segregated society cannot endure for long without the acquiescence of the minority race. It would be wrong to assume that all Negroes are prepared to revolt against discrimination and segregation, but the percentage for revolt is rising all the time. The Administration is much more conscious of this than it was a month ago and this explains its change of attitude.

What remains is the much more difficult process of translating this new official attitude into policy and legislation, and this is what has engaged the President and the attorney general all week. It is not in their power to eliminate discrimination at a stroke. They have to handle the revolt of the Negro in such a way as to avoid a counter-revolt of the white extremists, and this will be the most delicate operation of the President's entire Administration.

For it does not follow that Negro demonstrations that have compelled a change of attitude and policy in the White House will, if increased and carried into the plaza of Capitol Hill, compel a change of attitude and policy in the Congress. Threats of massive civil disobedience, including paralysis of the nation's transportation system, which have been made to avoid a filibuster in the Senate, could easily have precisely the opposite effect.

There is going to be a filibuster against the President's civil rights program. That much has been threatened in advance. And if it succeeds in blocking legislative relief for the Negroes' just grievances, it is difficult to see how bloodshed can be avoided in the end.

But the Congress should know that by now. It is slow but it is not blind. The Negroes have made their point and legal demonstration can emphasize it, but massive illegal demonstrations could easily become intimidation and defeat the legislation, without which neither progress nor civil order can be maintained.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here is the official U. S. Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

With the exception of some ground fog along the Ohio River, skies were generally clear over Ohio this morning. The cool, dry air mass that was over Ohio this morning was beginning to move slowly eastward.

The fine weather Ohio has been experiencing for the past two or three days should remain for at least another 48 hours, with a slight warming trend indicated to start tomorrow.

The morning weather map shows the entire nation under the influence of a large high pressure system. Two stationary fronts however are causing some rain-fall along the Canadian border and also through the southern tier of states.

Temperatures around Ohio early this morning were Columbus 50, Toledo 51, Cleveland 54 and Cincinnati 58.

Racial violence in the United States gives the world's Communists a golden harvest of propaganda. They are making the most of it.

Newspapers and radios in Communist ruled countries from China to Cuba have seized enthusiastically upon the events in the U.S. South.

The Communists tell the people of their own countries and the world that what is happening in the United States proves that claims of American freedom and democracy are fraudulent, that American leaders are hypocrites, that American "ruling circles" secretly plot brutal suppression of minorities.

Red propaganda machines are trying to see to it that the events in the United States do Americans and their system the most harm possible. The messages are pounded out day after day in broadcasts to Africa and other areas populated by colored peoples.

Inside Communist ruled countries, the newspapers and radio make the most of dispatches and news pictures of violence in Southern states. Again and again the idea is stressed that violence and hatred show the true face of American democracy, that the race troubles are a natural outgrowth of the system, a "disease of capitalism."

The Soviet press has exhibited a large degree of satisfaction in reporting the events. Often the domestic press reporting of the race troubles from the United States is factual and restrained. But the general tenor of Soviet coverage seems aimed at convincing the Soviets that minorities in their nation—and all working people—are far better off than ordinary people under the American system.

How effective is this propaganda? One example: Friday, in North Korea, a U.S. general asked a Communist general for information on two U.S. pilots forced down in Red territory. The American asked the Communists to "act like men living in the 20th century." The North Korean whipped out a photograph of a police dog lunging at a Negro in Birmingham, Ala. and snapped that it was "the true picture of what you call civilization."

General Phone Company Lists Change for Circleville District

The Circleville district will become a part of General Telephone Co. of Ohio's southern division on July 1 — the result of a change in the company's divisional set up.

Clare E. Williams of Marion, president, announced the company is combining its western and central divisions into one. This move will reduce the divisions from four to three.

Circleville district, now a part of central division, Marion, will be under the jurisdiction of A. C. Purpura, southern division manager at Portsmouth.

Donald F. Colegrove, manager of Circleville district, will continue in his present position.

Headquarters of the new central division will remain in Marion. Named as its new manager is Charles A. Bowen of Celina, present western division manager. He succeeds Edward F. Egg, who will assume duties as special projects administrator in the company's general offices at Marion.

President Williams pointed out the new organization will provide more efficient and effective operation. He noted the exchanges of Circleville district are geographically closer to the southern division.

Offices making up the district including Circleville are: Amanda, Ashville, Baltimore, Laurelville, Millersport, Pleasantville and Williamsport.

Circleville district serves almost 12,000 telephones, having facilities in Pickaway, Fairfield, Hocking, Licking, Perry, Ross and Vinton counties.

With the addition of Circleville district, southern division will serve about 92,000 telephones through 71 central offices in 23 counties. Other district offices of the division are: Athens, Georgetown, Portsmouth and Wilmington.

Besides central and southern division, the company's third division office is situated at New Philadelphia. The latter division remains unchanged by this reorganization.

Soviet Space Dog Bears Litter of 4 Puppies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pushinka, daughter of Soviet space dog Strelka, is back home at the White House after giving birth to four puppies at a veterinary hospital.

Pushinka, the gift of Soviet Premier Khrushchev to President Kennedy and his family two years ago, was born several months after Strelka's 1960 space trip.

The paternity of the new puppies is a little vague but Caroline Kennedy's terrier, Charlie, may be the daddy.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, June 18, the 160th day of 1963. There are 196 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1798, Congress passed the Naturalization Act which set 14 years' residence as a citizenship qualification for foreigners. That act and the Alien and Sedition Acts passed later inspired immediate and violent reaction.

On this date:

In 1778, the British evacuated Philadelphia and retreated across the Delaware into New Jersey, pursued by American troops who broke camp at Valley Forge.

In 1812, the United States declared war on Great Britain.

In 1861, the first telegraph message sent from a balloon was sent to president Abraham Lincoln by professor Thaddeus Lowe.

In 1928, Ronald Amundsen and five companions flew from Tromsø, Norway to rescue survivors of the Noble Expedition but were never heard from again.

In 1945, U.S. Lt. Gen. Simon Buckner was killed in action on Okinawa in World War II.

Ten years ago: One of aviation's worst disasters killed 192 U.S. servicemen when a U.S. Air Force Globemaster transport crashed near Tokyo shortly after takeoff.

Five years ago: President Nasser of the United Arab Republic rejected U.S. appeals that the UAR halt its aid to rebel forces in Lebanon.

One year ago: Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's Conservative party lost its majority in the Canadian House of Commons in nationwide elections.

It's a Revolution, Not Just Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Negroes of America have made President Kennedy and probably a majority of Congress realize that this country is now faced, not with a Negro "problem" but a Negro revolution, according to James (Scotty) Reston, double Pulitzer Prize-winning chief Washington correspondent for The New York Times. Reston continues his observation:

This has changed many things here. It has changed the Administration's order of priorities. It has put the domestic revolution above the cold war on the President's catalogue of urgent business. It has destroyed the official assumption that the race question could be dealt with by political manipulation. It has forced a major bipartisan effort and national educational campaign for new civil rights legislation, probably at the expense of the rest of Kennedy's domestic legislative program.

Before laws and regulations can be changed, attitudes and assumptions have to be changed, and this is what's now happening. Even after the Birmingham crisis, there was an attitude of irritability in the Administration about all the trouble, and maybe even a touch of self-pity.

The Administration seemed to be saying that here it was doing all it could to help the Negroes in the middle of a world crisis and that nobody understood or appreciated its efforts—certainly not the Deep South or the Congress, and not even the Negro leaders or the moderates or the press in the North.

Blast Out of the East

Intelligence experts have warned Washington to expect a Red Chinese nuclear explosion by the end of the year, according to a Washington dispatch. If true, this is not startling.

For many months it has been assumed the Chinese communists would have nuclear weapons sooner or later. The fact that this development may come sooner underlines a basic problem facing the U.S.

Red China is rapidly vaulting into the position where it can be Washington's No. 1 problem in foreign affairs. Yet there is no corresponding development in ability to cope with this problem.

Washington observers report that virtually no fresh ideas on this China situation are percolating through the government, and that even old ideas cannot compete for attention with the present day-to-day crises.

While the Kremlin, Berlin, Cuba and Latin America attract attention, Red China is moving to the center of the stage. Once Communist China has nuclear weapons, her influence can increase tremendously.

Such a development will have great psychological impact on all of Southeast Asia, especially on neutralists who feel pressure to keep on good terms with Peking. It will increase the belligerence of communists elsewhere, as in North Korea and North Viet Nam. Indonesia's opposition to the creation of Malaysia—the uniting of Malaya, Singapore, North Borneo, Sarawak and Brunei—will be strengthened.

Within a few years, our problems with this monster of the Asian mainland could make our problems elsewhere pale into insignificance.

Ending 'Bracer' Program

The U. S. House of Representatives has voted to end the 12-year-old importation of Mexican laborers for work on U. S. farms. It did so after hearing the program called "Slave labor" and charges that it was offering competition for Americans wanting such jobs.

The first charge could come only from an uninformed person. The 195,000 workers being used in such labor this past year had greater protection in their rights and benefits than U. S. citizens doing the same kind of work.

The "bracer" program, which now will expire next Jan. 1, is one in which the U. S. Labor Department contracts with the government of Mexico to hire Mexicans for work in the U. S. Then employers (chiefly in cotton, fruit-vegetable and sugar beet growing areas) contract with the department to hire the workers.

Because of Labor Department supervision and recent minimum standards in pay and conditions, the Mexicans have been faring quite well—better than U. S. migrant workers who are not similarly coddled.

As for competition with U. S. workers, this is probably spurious. Few people in this country are willing to do the kind of "stoop labor" that the Mexicans are used for—they'd rather draw unemployment pay than engage in such back-aching work.

Clash Below the Surface

By John Chamberlain

The spectre that is haunting the Democratic Party as the racial issue crosses the Potomac going north has hardly been mentioned in the open by election strategists, but it is something that calls for the highest political skills if it is to be exorcized between now and 1964.

The spectre in question involves the economics of the Northern Negro who is looking for upgrading in his job. Generally speaking, this Negro is not a skilled man. When you call the plumber or hire an electrician, it is a virtual certainty that a white man will show up—and if he brings an assistant to carry his tools the color of the assistant's skin will be white, too. And in the "father and son" unions the color line is drawn as part of an ancient monopoly.

In the mass industries it is somewhat better: Negroes work on the production lines of Detroit. Indeed, old Henry Ford started hiring them long before he would let an industrial unionist inside his plants. But even in the industrial areas of Michigan, Ohio, and Illinois, there is a problem posed by the nature of immigration from the hill— and often highly prejudiced—regions of the backcountry South. The anti-Negro "red necks" have come north, too.

To be sure, the Republican politicians must declare themselves on race issues no less than the Democrats. They must balance on a tightrope on the States' Rights issue simply because they belong to the party of Abraham Lincoln, who overrode the States' Rights in his day. But the Republicans' dilemma is as nothing when compared with the Democratic Party's dilemma, not only in the South but north of the Mason-Dixon line.

Making a pitch for the votes of the common man, the Democrats of the North have carried off many a triumph by putting the labor vote together with the so-called "ethnic" vote. When the race issue was mostly a question of providing relief for Negroes or putting them on political payrolls, there was no searing conflict between the labor vote and ethnic considerations. However, now that the Northern Negro has declared himself, through such organizations as the Urban League, as being unwilling to "wait," the issue between two traditional supporters of the Democratic politicians is joined. The tight craft unions must be prepared to give scope to Negro apprentices. This is the crux of the situation—and it is not going to be dismissed easily.

If the Negro is to escape from this business of "waiting," he must be able to earn real money. The business of "busting" a recalcitrant white block in a good residential area involves more than an abstract possession of the civil right to live anywhere. It involves a quite mundane down-payment on real estate. And to make a down-payment, one must have more than a hodge-podge of income.

In the nature of things, the politician who is competing for the Negro vote can't transform waiters and hod carriers into skilled electricians and plumbers and linotype operators in a few days. The politician can only guarantee that Negroes will be hired on government projects. True enough, he can persuade the business man to give jobs to Negroes provided they have the ability to do the work. But business men can't throw skilled jobs to Negroes when hypocritical union apprentice practices stand, like so many silent Governor Wallaces, in the way. This pervasive problem of riding the Negro "ethnic" horse and the balky craft union horse at one and the same time is the problem of the hour. It is not an immediate pressing problem for the Republican Party for purely fortuitous geographical reasons. The Republicans, in the North, happen to draw their prime sustenance from the suburban districts, where the race problem does not yet obtrude. The Negro, when he has earned some real money, will be getting there, the Republicans will have to reckon with the problem of race consciousness. But this will not pose itself as a big Republican issue for 1964. It is an issue the Democratic Party will have to meet simply because Democrats have been in power in the cities.

Jumping to Some Conclusions

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Aside from good health, the greatest gift the gods can give is an active sense of curiosity. It is a form of human wealth more important than all the gold ever accumulated.

Man's progress—if it can be called that—springs almost entirely from his curiosity, and as a matter of fact a man's health can pretty well be measured by his sense of curiosity. It is when he is sick that he is inclined to feel bored, and want "to get away from it all."

Curiosity may have killed the cat, but it helps human beings to live longer—and more happily.

The first sign a girl is considering marrying a man is her desire to straighten his necktie. But when she starts brushing the dandruff off the shoulders of his blue serge suit in public, he's a goner for sure.

No really good book was ever killed by a bad critic. Ironically, however, many a bad book has become popular because a good critic knocked it.

Good advice is like castor oil. It can't do you any good unless you take it.

If a visitor from Mars judged earth by what appears on television programs, he could hardly escape the conclusion that the two greatest problems facing mankind are: What kind of detergent to put in the washing machine, and whether to use a roll-on, spray or cream deodorant.

Many people take a melancholy satisfaction in having insomnia, feeling it proves that at least they are doing their fair share of the national worrying, when all it actually indicates is that they aren't getting enough physical exercise.

Those who perform some of the most essential chores in this world are most often among the poorest rewarded. A dog catcher performs a necessary service, but do you know of anybody who ever mentioned one in his will?

It's the guy who has to ask his wife for lunch money who borrows most from the other fellows in the office.

A woman dates the beginning of middle age not by her years or the sign of gray hair but by the fact she has to go from a size 12 to a size 14 dress.

A man never realizes his wife is no longer young until she starts reminding him to act his age.

There's nothing people fight harder against than doing something they are told is best for them. Thus it does little real good to warn overweight people their excess poundage is bad for them. But if Congress passed a law making it illegal to be slender, every fat man and fat woman in the land would go on a diet overnight.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—It will take more than a slowdown in steel production to cool the enthusiasm of most businessmen and government economists for the prospects of the economy the rest of the year.

Steel orders and output have dropped after weeks of rising activity as customers hedged against the possibility of a strike.

And auto sales and output—both now running well ahead of last year—are due to dwindle when the model changeovers start.

But most of the rest of the economy, the optimists insist, will pull ahead.

They base their enthusiasm on the general health of business with inventories mostly well in hand, the rising expenditures at various government levels, and the unshaken confidence of consumers which optimists interpret to mean that retail sales should go on rising if only modestly.

They admit the usual summer slowdown for vacations in a number of industries will soon arrive. Even the most optimistic aren't downgrading the problem of rising unemployment this summer because tee-agers can't find jobs.

But then they run off the list of strong points.

Much steel ordering has been for a strike hedge, and therefore temporary. But a sizable part of the increased sales have been to customers who needed the steel for their own increasing business. Hence, the drop in steel output may be less than feared earlier.

Auto sales in the first third of June topped year ago figures by 5.6 per cent, and currently production is 17 per cent ahead of this time last year. The holdover of 1963 models at changeover time is expected to be well below a year ago.

Industrial output is at a record high, having risen for five straight months. It is likely to dip or level off this summer, but the majority of economists still hold it will rise further in the fall.

The future of construction, currently at high level, is still a question. Business spending for new plant and equipment is far from booming, but also it is better than a year ago. Home and apartment building remains high. So, on the whole construction should bolster the economy—certainly not drag it down.

A certainty is a rise in government spending. Federal state and local projects are being started and contracts awarded. And increased borrowing, at all levels of government, foreshadows still more spending ahead.

The recent slight tightening of credit in the short-term market doesn't discourage the optimist who points out there is still ample credit available for the long-term borrower—whether he be businessman, home builder, car buyer, government official. And this ample supply is counted upon to keep long-term interest rates low enough to encourage at least a moderate expansion in the economy.

The final item on the optimist's list is taxes.

State and local taxes are rising a good deal more often than they are falling. But federal income taxes may be cut. Individuals may get a rate cut starting the first of next year, if congressional thinking follows the course presently indicated. Corporations look for relief scattered over the next two or three years.

A FEW INSPIRED book dedications:
Inez McEwen dedicated her "So This Is Ranching" to "My infant grandson, the only gent on whom I've been able to pin anything."
Mark Hellinger dedicated one of his volumes to the bargain basement of a department store, for designing "underwear that doesn't bind while seated at a typewriter."
Vice-President Tom Marshall dedicated his memoirs to "President Woodrow Wilson, from his only Vice."
Franklin P. Adams inscribed one volume of verse to his "Loving Wife, but for whose constant interruptions, this book would have been finished six months earlier."

You may take with a grain of salt the claim of a St. Paul barber that he has a solution for customers who are losing their hair. He sells them a new tonic containing alum and lemon. He warns them that this doesn't grow hair—but it does shrink their heads, so that the hair they have left fits better!

"There's no limit to the amount of work a man can do," insisted Robert Benchley, "provided, of course, that it isn't the work he's SUPPOSED to be doing at that moment."

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—It will take more than a slowdown in steel production to cool the enthusiasm of most businessmen and government economists for the prospects of the economy the rest of the year.
Steel orders and output have dropped after weeks of rising activity as customers hedged against the possibility of a strike. And auto sales and output—both now running well ahead of last year—are due to dwindle when the model changeovers start.
But most of the rest of the economy, the optimists insist, will pull ahead.
They base their enthusiasm on the general health of business with inventories mostly well in hand, the rising expenditures at various government levels, and the unshaken confidence of consumers which optimists interpret to mean that retail sales should go on rising if only modestly.
They admit the usual summer slowdown for vacations in a number of industries will soon arrive. Even the most optimistic aren't downgrading the problem of rising unemployment this summer because tee-agers can't find jobs. But then they run off the list of strong points.
Much steel ordering has been for a strike hedge, and therefore temporary. But a sizable part of the increased sales have been to customers who needed the steel for their own increasing business. Hence, the drop in steel output may be less than feared earlier.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...
By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

It is truly remarkable that the bones and joints of the body are so resistant to sprains, dislocations, fractures and injuries. Still, the pressures put upon the ankle and wrists during work and play sometimes exceed their wonderful resilience.

The most common sprain involves the ankle.

A sprain is caused by the sudden stretching of the ligaments that bind adjacent bones. When unusual tensions occur, the ligaments can actually be torn away from their bony attachments. Invariably, blood vessels and muscles are injured during severe sprains. The immediate swelling, discoloration of the ankle and pain often reflect the extent and character of the injury.

Sprains can vary from mild, temporary injuries to extremely serious and long-lasting ones. Early treatment by a doctor can hasten recovery and can prevent lingering disabilities. Most sprains should be X-rayed, even if the external inspection does not suggest a fracture or dislocation.

Sport injuries are frequently treated by spraying the ankle or injecting it for relief of pain, which at best is only temporary. The false concept that "The game must be played" can do irreparable damage to the ankle joints. This temporary relief can actually hide the severity of the underlying injury. Most athletic coaches now insist on immediate rest and the exact evaluation of the extent of the injury.

Splints, tapes and even plaster casts are used to put the sprained ankle at rest. The severe pain is nature's own protective device; a warning against harmful activity.

If you sprain your ankle, do not attempt to walk on it. Take the pressure off your ankle by elevating it and resting it. If the disability is to be of short duration, and recovery complete, all sprains should be immediately examined by your doctor.

Canker sores or aphthous ulcers of the mouth have consistently resisted any scientific inroads into their cause or cure. These small, painful, recurrent ulcers occur singly or in batches without any apparent relationship to wea-

June topped year ago figures by 5.6 per cent, and currently production is 17 per cent ahead of this time last year. The holdover of 1963 models at changeover time is expected to be well below a year ago.

Industrial output is at a record high, having risen for five straight months. It is likely to dip or level off this summer, but the majority of economists still hold it will rise further in the fall.

The future of construction, currently at high level, is still a question. Business spending for new plant and equipment is far from booming, but also it is better than a year ago. Home and apartment building remains high. So, on the whole construction should bolster the economy—certainly not drag it down.

A certainty is a rise in government spending. Federal state and local projects are being started and contracts awarded. And increased borrowing, at all levels of government, foreshadows still more spending ahead.

The recent slight tightening of credit in the short-term market doesn't discourage the optimist who points out there is still ample credit available to the long-term borrower—whether he be businessman, home builder, car buyer, government official. And this ample supply is counted upon to keep long-term interest rates low enough to encourage at least a moderate expansion in the economy.

The final item on the optimist's list is taxes.

State and local taxes are rising a good deal more often than they are falling. But federal income taxes may be cut. Individuals may get a rate cut starting the first of next year, if congressional thinking follows the course presently indicated. Corporations look for relief scattered over the next two or three years.

Girl Scouts Show Skill

Girl Scout Troop No. 425 demonstrated the use of tin can stoves and ovens Sunday, at Camp Ken-Jockey, Girl Scout Camp, West Jefferson.

The group was invited to show their skill by the camp director, Miss Dorothy Gamber, who observed them using tin can ovens at their troop campout at K-J recently. Pizza pies and jam tarts were baked and served to visitors at the "Woody's Pizza Parlor". Following the cooking demonstration the group enjoyed swimming in the pool.

Intermediate Scouts who participated were: Ann Cook, Diana Foster, Betsy Hamrick, Paula MacKenzie, Sandy Porter, Barbara Rackett, Marietta Sweeney, Jenny Thompson, Pabby Vaughan, Debbie Woods. Senior Scouts from Troop 796 were Cynthia Thompson and Harriet Jones.

Adults accompanying the group were: Mrs. Charles Thompson and Mrs. John MacKenzie, leaders of the troop; Mrs. George Hamrick, troop committee chairman;

Charles Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. William Rackett and Mr. and Mrs. William Vaughan were also visitors at the Open House.

Troop No. 425, together with seniors from Troop No. 796, had a four-day campout early in June in Trails' End Unit at Camp Ken-Jockey. Mrs. Charles Thompson and Mrs. John MacKenzie accompanied the group. The girls pitched their own tents, trekked them, and camped in a primitive setting while earning their Pioneer Badge. They also worked on a camp conservation project for their Conservation Badge. Hiking, swimming, outdoor cooking of all types and nightly campfires made up the program.

Intermediate Girl Scouts attending were: Ann Cook, Diana Foster, Betsy Hamrick, Paula MacKenzie, Sandy Porter, Barbara Rackett, Patty Robinson, Jenny Thompson, Pabby Vaughan, Debbie Woods and Diana Slusser. Senior Girl Scouts were: Cynthia Thompson, Ellen Jenkins, Judy Lawson and Harriet Jones. Carol McCoskey went as a guest.

Twelve Attend Five Points WCTU Meeting

Eleven members of the Five Points WCTU met recently in the home of Mrs. Cecil Reid of near Range. Mrs. Ovid Clark was a guest.

Mrs. Francis Furniss, president, opened the meeting with group singing. She used, "He Had No Shirt" as the theme. Mrs. Ernest Sheets read Psalm 126 as the Scripture followed by meditation and prayer.

Roll call was answered by members responding with a favorite Bible verse. Mrs. Shirley Anderson gave the secretary's report.

Mrs. Loring Stoe read, "Work of Hands and Heart". Mrs. Clark McCafferty, Mrs. Howard Grabill, Mrs. Lloyd Neff, Mrs. Arthur Winifred and Mrs. Reid read the discussion helps. The newly organized YTC Group, under the direction of Mrs. William Davis, served the luncheon for the Pickaway County Council of Garden Clubs as their money making project to defray expenses at the Wittenberg College Youth Camp held this week.

Plans were discussed to attend WCTU day at Stoutsville and Lancaster. Election of officers was held and the old officers were retained for another year.

The July meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Howard Grabill with Mrs. Ernestine Duleson assisting. The meeting closed with the benediction.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Reid assisted by her mother, Mrs. Etta Neff.

2 Girls Killed In Highland County Crash

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — A carefree outing of young girls has ended in sudden death—for the second time in a period of less than 48 hours—in Ohio.

The latest happened Monday afternoon, when an automobile carrying four Clinton County girls veered off Ohio 41 north of Greenfield. It slammed into a bridge culvert, leaving two dead and two hurt seriously.

The day before, six Youngstown girls died when a train hit their car near Ashtabula. That accident, early Sunday, happened as the girls were returning from a swimming party.

Highway patrolmen said the four girls in Monday's accident apparently were going swimming at Rocky Fork Lake. They identified the dead as Jo Anne Anders, 18, Sabina, and Ruth Ann Von Bergen, 18, Rt. 2, Sabina.

Susan Carter, 18, and Debbie Nunn, 17, both of Sabina, were taken to Greenfield Municipal Hospital.

Marie Goodman, announced that June 25 will be another work day for the ladies to make articles for the bazaar to be held in the fall.

Alma Alderman, program leader, opened with group singing. Lucille Thomas then she offered prayer. The program dealt with Korea, Okinawa and Taiwan, countries on the rim of East Asia.

The history of Korea was given by Hazel Merz and the people and culture of Korea by Clara DeLong. Sylvia Harper discussed Okinawa. Gladys Noggle gave a background of Taiwan, named Terrace Bay by the inhabitants. Mrs. Alderman then told about the people and the culture of Taiwan. Jessie Cummings presented an article on the problems of Taiwan.

The offering was collected by Hazel Merz, treasurer. The group then sang, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" and repeated The Lord's Prayer.

Contests were conducted by Lucille Thomas and Joanne Schlegler. Prizes were awarded to Orpha Kirkwood, Lucille Thomas and Polly J. Thomas.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Lucille Thomas and Mabel Dumm.

William Norris, Ashville, was honored Sunday with a carry-in picnic dinner held at Rising Park, Lancaster.

The afternoon was spent visiting and touring the park. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Norris and children, Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Norris and children, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norris and children, all of Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davy and children, Groveport; Mr. and Mrs. William Norris, Ashville.

Meet Slated by Group

Pythian Sisters of Majors Temple No. 516 will meet 8 p. m. Thursday in the K of P Lodge Hall.

Girl Scouts Show Skill

Girl Scout Troop No. 425 demonstrated the use of tin can stoves and ovens Sunday, at Camp Ken-Jockey, Girl Scout Camp, West Jefferson.

The group was invited to show their skill by the camp director, Miss Dorothy Gamber, who observed them using tin can ovens at their troop campout at K-J recently. Pizza pies and jam tarts were baked and served to visitors at the "Woody Pixie Pizza Parlor". Following the cooking demonstration the group enjoyed swimming in the pool.

Intermediate Scouts who participated were: Ann Cook, Diana Foster, Betsy Hamrick, Paula MacKenzie, Sandy Porter, Barbara Rackett, Marietta Sweeney, Jenny Thompson, Pabby Vaughan, Debbie Woods. Senior Scouts from Troop 796 were Cynthia Thompson and Harriet Jones.

Adults accompanying the group were: Mrs. Charles Thompson and Mrs. John MacKenzie, leaders of the troop; Mrs. George Hamrick, troop committee chairman;

Charles Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. William Rackett and Mr. and Mrs. William Vaughan were also visitors at the Open House.

Troop No. 425, together with seniors from Troop No. 796, had a four-day campout early in June in Trails' End Unit at Camp Ken-Jockey. Mrs. Charles Thompson and Mrs. John MacKenzie accompanied the group. The girls pitched their own tents, trekked them, and camped in a primitive setting while earning their Pioneer Badge. They also worked on a camp conservation project for their Conservation Badge, Hiking swimming, outdoor cooking of all types and nightly campfires made up the program.

Intermediate Girl Scouts attending were: Ann Cook, Diana Foster, Betsy Hamrick, Paula MacKenzie, Sandy Porter, Barbara Rackett, Patty Robinson, Jenny Thompson, Pabby Vaughan, Debbie Woods and Diana Slusser. Senior Girl Scouts were: Cynthia Thompson, Ellen Jenkins, Judy Lawson and Harriet Jones. Carol McCoskey went as a guest.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Reverse Psychology!

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "SMART TOO LATE" interested me. Here is a boy who urges other young people not to wait until their last semester of high school before buckling down to study. He uses himself as an example because he had just received the shock of having been turned down by the college of his choice. What gives a person who has failed the authority to lecture to others on the subject?

MRS. JONES
DEAR MRS. JONES: A winner is obviously in a position to give advice, and many will listen. But nobody can inspire a drunk to sober up like an exdrunk who had

Twelve Attend Five Points WCTU Meeting

Eleven members of the Five Points WCTU met recently in the home of Mrs. Cecil Reid of near Range. Mrs. Ovid Clark was a guest.

Mrs. Francis Furniss, president, opened the meeting with group singing. She used, "He Had No Shirt" as the theme. Mrs. Ernest Sheets read Psalm 126 as the Scripture followed by meditation and prayer.

Roll call was answered by members responding with a favorite Bible verse. Mrs. Shirley Anderson gave the secretary's report.

Mrs. Loring Stoe read, "Work of Hands and Heart". Mrs. Clark McCafferty, Mrs. Howard Grabill, Mrs. Lloyd Neff, Mrs. Arthur Winfough and Mrs. Reid read the discussion helps. The newly organized YTC Group, under the direction of Mrs. William Davis, served the luncheon for the Pickaway County Council of Garden Clubs as their money making project to defray expenses at the Wittenberg College Youth Camp held this week.

Plans were discussed to attend WCTU day at Stoutsville and Lancaster. Election of officers was held and the old officers were retained for another year.

The July meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Howard Grabill with Mrs. Ernestine Dudson assisting. The meeting closed with the benediction.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Reid assisted by her mother, Mrs. Etta Neff.

been able to do it himself.

DEAR ABBY: My son is 17 and wants to get a driver's license. He drives all right, so that's not the problem. You see, he was born in March, and I didn't get married until May of the same year. I don't want to give him his birth certificate with that information on it. He says he needs his birth certificate to get his driver's license. What should I do?

WORRIED MOM
DEAR WORRIED: You do not say whether you married the boy's father, or another man. Your problem involves laws and procedures that differ in different states. In some states birth certificates can be "fixed up" (to protect the child) and the original sealed. Ask your city or county health department, or the department of vital statistics, for information.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe this problem will sound small and unimportant to you, but it's really got me stumped. After 25 years and 3 children my husband now says, "I just can't sleep with you any more because you snore."

Now, Abby, do you think he's got somebody else or is snoring enough to make a man sleep alone? SNORING WOMAN
DEAR SNORING: Believe him. Snoring has driven more husbands (and wives!) out of their mates' bedrooms than infidelity.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "PATTY'S PIG": Knowledge is the awareness that fire will burn. Wisdom is the blister. Blisters heal. Cheer up, Sister.

Father To Serve Time In Jail for Torture

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Francis Carr, who pleaded guilty to torture of his 19-year-old daughter, Frances Jean, will serve out his sentence at Ashtabula County Jail in Jefferson.

Trumbull County Sheriff Robert Barnett said Monday that limited capacity of the county jail makes it necessary to board out long-term prisoners such as Carr. Carr has begun serving a six-month sentence meted out to him last week by Municipal Court Judge James A. Raveila.

Bridal Shower Conducted for Miss Lowery

Miss Veronda Lowery, daughter of Mr. Vernon Lowery of near Circleville, bride-elect of Mr. Larry Arnold, Route 1, was honored Wednesday evening with a bridal shower given in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Timmons, Mrs. William Arnold was assisting hostess.

Decorations of red and white streamers and white wedding bells were used.

Prizes for games played were won by Mrs. Carson Kelley, Shirley Kelley and Mrs. Neal Echard. A dessert course was served.

Gifts were received from, Mrs. Noah Arnold, Mrs. Clydus Teets, Mrs. Russell Teets, Mrs. Paul Arnold, all of Circleville; Mrs. Clifford Kelley, Mrs. Leo Smith, Mrs. Carson Kelley, Mrs. Francis Kelley, Mrs. Nick Kelley and Nichollette, Miss Shirley Kelley and Pam Timmons, all of Kingston; and Mrs. Neal Echard, Chillicothe.

Personals

Rhonda and Renee Bircher, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. David Bircher, Meadow Drive, Jeffrey Palm, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Palm, 136 Park St., and Brad Dye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Dye, 121 Wilson Ave., will appear Thursday on the Cinderella television show.

Bob Fricce and son Dave of Whickenburg, Ariz., visited for two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fricce, S. Washington St.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Crissinger of Columbus were weekend guests of Mr. Crissinger's foster sister, Mrs. Mary E. Fullen, 215 W. Main St.

PEOPLE In the News

Cmdr. Charles P. Rozier, commanding officer of the destroyer Charles P. Cecil and six of his crew have been awarded Navy commendations for their roles in forcing a Soviet submarine to surface during the Cuban crisis.

Rear Adm. J. O. Miner, in behalf of Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth, presented the medals Monday at Norfolk, Va.

Brendan Behan, Irish author and wit who makes no secret of his liking for liquor, was reported in good condition today at a hospital in New York City, where he is being treated for a liver ailment. He was taken to New York University Medical Center after his wife called a doctor Monday because Behan had not been looking well.

Behan, 40, has been living at a midtown Manhattan hotel. New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner paid a courtesy call today on Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda at his official residence in Tokyo.

Wagner is in Tokyo to promote the Tokyo-New York "sister city" affiliation. He is a guest of Tokyo Gov. Ryutaro Azuma.

Lorraine Belinsky, 20, sister of baseball pitcher Bo Belinsky, has been named Miss Trenton in the eliminations for the Miss University Contest.

Miss Belinsky, a graduate of Trenton High School, was picked in the New Jersey capital city to appear in the state finals June 28.

Chic Summer Millinery

DISTINCTIVE SILHOUETTE — A dashing black velvet feather gives a jaunty air to this black bali straw sailor hat banded and brimmed in velvet.

By SUSAN BARDEN

The summer season should see more women wearing hats than there have been for many a year.

2 Girls Killed In Highland County Crash

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — A carefree outing of young girls has ended in sudden death—for the second time in a period of less than 48 hours—in Ohio.

The latest happened Monday afternoon, when an automobile carrying four Clinton County girls veered off Ohio 41 north of Greenfield. It slammed into a bridge culvert, leaving two dead and two hurt seriously.

The day before, six Youngstown girls died when a train hit their car near Ashtabula. That accident, early Sunday, happened as the girls were returning from a swimming party.

Highway patrolmen said the four girls in Monday's accident apparently were going swimming at Rocky Fork Lake. They identified the dead as Jo Anne Anders, 18, Sabina, and Ruth Ann Von Bergen, 18, Rt. 2, Sabina.

Susan Carter, 18, and Debbie Nunn, 17, both of Sabina, were taken to Greenfield Municipal Hospital.

Even though you may make your menu and market list before you food-shop, have an open mind! If a particular green vegetable, for example, is in especially fine condition and reasonably priced, it's worth using on the menu even though this means some change-about.

DEB SHOP CHATTER

If you are looking for an unusual gift for a friend or relative who has everything, including bad case of nerves, we can tell you where to find it.

A friend of ours in New York City just sent up a clipping of an ad, showing a picture of a Fidget Stone. Now, this is a genuine jade gadget, just the size of your thumb and it has a tiny imprint in it. We quote the description: "Just fiddle with our Fidget Stone and feel euphoria set in! Prettier than pills... more fun than a massage, soothing as a lullaby. Hand carved of genuine jade (good luck stone of the Orient). You'll love to handle it... carry it... rub it!"

This little stone of distinction is not expensive. The cost is $10.00 plus tax. And while it may do all the things described, it makes us nervous to think about the cost... why, for just a little bit more we could sell you one of the new summer patio cottons, which would make you LOOK and FEEL so smart, fidgeting would be out of the question!

The pink and white stripes Gay Gibsoh has spaghetti straps and a lace panel down the front. It is as cool and delightful as a summer breeze.

For a more sophisticated look there is a black pique spaghetti strap sheath. This simple dress was designed for your colorful summer jewelry.

To accent your summer cottons we have a wide selection of straw bags just covered with flowers. The colors are so gay and fresh that you can't help feeling the same way when you carry one.

For that calm, relaxed look in hot weather, we invite you to shop today and we hope to be seeing you at THE DEB SHOP.

One good reason is the popularity of the shift and skimmer dresses. These fashions are so simple in line that they demand a pretty or dramatic topping.

Another reason is that hats are so beautiful and becoming that they are bound to appeal to the feminine heart.

One of the most chic and distinctive of the new collections is by Tatiana, one of our own most gifted milliners. These eye-appealing hats show a subtle blending of artistry and versatility.

Fabrics have been manipulated into fascinating shapes and dimensions. New and unusual color combinations are used with exciting and dramatic effect. And fabrics are often contrasted or matched to give a luxurious look.

There is an infinite variety of silhouettes to suit every taste.

Picture hats are trimmed in grosgrain and pampered with flowers. Turbans are deftly draped in airy veiling. Cloches are given soft flattery with the addition of little brims and sailors are glamorized with fancies of material or wide, impressive bands.

Ever substitute canned fruit cocktail (well drained) for the usual pineapple when preparing an upsidown cake?

CLEOPATRA HITS BROADWAY—Times Square in New York City takes on the atmosphere of a Roman circus as crowds throng on both sides of Broadway in front of the Rivoli Theater, awaiting the premiere of "Cleopatra." Attending celebrities were interviewed on live TV, and three separate red carpets were rolled out for the arriving "names." Rex Harrison, who portrays Julius Caesar in the film, was the only one of its three major stars at the premiere.

Legacy in Space—

Mercury Project Booms Knowledge

EDITOR'S NOTE — Project Mercury left a vast legacy of experience and knowledge for future space flights. Howard Benedict, AP correspondent at Cape Canaveral, reports on Mercury's important contributions in the second of three articles.

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Project Mercury's original cost estimate of 200 million soared to more than twice that figure because of unforeseen problems sending men into space.

There are few who will dispute the high price tag for Mercury — now officially ended — left a vast legacy of experience and knowledge which is being applied to the two-man Gemini program. Gemini will lay the groundwork for the Apollo man-to-moon effort.

Mercury's most important contribution was its demonstration that man can effectively perform useful tasks in space even after long exposure to weightlessness. "I think we proved man is a pretty good backup system to all these automatic systems," Air Force Maj. Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr., commented after his 22-orbit flight which climaxed the program last month.

Jerome E. Hammack of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Manned Space Flight Center said: "Man as a positive factor contributing to mission success in the space environment has proven himself in Project Mercury."

As a result, he added, the

Ohio Draft Call For July To Be For 590 Youths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Selective Service headquarters issued a draft call for 590 young men Monday. The call, which is for July, compares with 371 a year ago.

Ohio's highest monthly call this year was 863 in April. The July call, by counties: Clinton 1, Fayette 1, Highland 1, Green 2, Warren 3, Pickaway 2, Ross 5, Madison 2, Hocking 1, Athens 3, Fairfield 7, Perry 2, Vinton 1, Van Wert 1, Allen 6, Mercer 1, Paulding 1, Putnam 4.

Thief-Proof Meters

Turn Out To Be Thieves

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the city's 300 new parking meters especially designed to balk thieves, have turned out to be robbers themselves.

Rexford G. Wessels, city purchasing officer, said he caught a number of the thief-proof meters giving motorists only five minutes of parking time for a dime, instead of 60 minutes.

He said the manufacturer is working to correct the dishonest meters.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — In this country where people have different religious beliefs and some have none, no state can impose any religious belief or exercise in the public schools.

That's the short of the Supreme Court's historic ruling Monday outlawing the reading of the Bible and the Lord's Prayer in public schools as a religious exercise.

This goes even if students, whose parents object to the religious exercise, are excused from taking part.

But the court, whose majority opinion was written by Justice Tom Clark, did not say the Bible or religious history could not be studied in public schools as part of a general education program.

Under the Constitution, Clark said, a state must maintain strict neutrality on religious matters. "Neither aiding nor opposing religion."

Another justice, William O. Douglas, agreeing with Clark, put it this way:

"Through the mechanism of the state (unless it is banned) all of the people are being required to finance a religious exercise that only some of the people want and that violates the sensibilities of others."

The court had been working up to this decision and almost reached it, but not quite, last year in the case of New York schools where the Board of Regents had recommended the recital of a 22-word prayer at the start of each school day.

The prayer, which had been drafted by the board itself, said: "Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependency upon Thee and we beg Thy blessing upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

But some people don't believe in God. Others, if they do, prefer to pray some other way. The court banned that prayer as unconstitutional. The opinion then was written by Justice Hugo Black.

He said for the school board to require recital of its prayer violated the first section of the First Amendment which declares, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

In that case Black put the em-

Sinatra Learns How To Relax, Enjoy Benefits of Fresh Air

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Once the leading show biz swinger, Frank Sinatra now appears to be pushing Perry Como for king of the relaxers.

Want to know how relaxed Sinatra is? He remained completely calm while being shaved by Anita Ekberg.

It was all for a movie, of course, a Western called "For a Texas." And the razor was dull, of course. But under any circumstances such a shave would test a man's ability to relax.

After going at top speed for most of his 45 years, Frank seems to have found the secret of slowing down. Whereas he once appeared to be an opponent of fresh air, he is now an ardent golfer.

The change in the Sinatra way of life was signaled by his move from his mountaintop bachelor's place to his home in Palm Springs. He has followed the move of Red Skelton, Dinah Shore and other stars who now make the desert their permanent home. He maintains a flat here for use when he is working.

"The life down there is wonderful," he remarked after the Ekbergian shave. "It's the only way I can get complete relaxation. Even if I try to stay home at night here, something always comes up so I have to go out. Down on the desert nobody can get to me. It's surprising what a difference that much distance can make." He covers the 125 miles in 27 minutes by his private plane.

In recent years Sinatra has turned big businessman, operating such enterprises as Reprise Records, Essex Productions (films) and Cal Nava Lodge at Lake Tahoe. How can he oversee his businesses and still remain a desert dweller?

"I have my own 'hot line,'" he explained. "It's a telephone system that connects me immediately with any office I want to talk to. I had to do something like that. The regular telephone charges were killing me."

The slower pace also permits a surprising Sinatra pastime—reading.

"It's something I haven't been able to do in recent years," he said. "Now I'm catching up on all the books I missed. I generally like to have five books going at the same time reading pieces of each one. I go back three pages—10 if it's a difficult book—and I can pick up the thread."

phases on the first part of the amendment — "establishment of religion" — and not the second part. But that amendment prohibited Congress from passing a law "respecting establishment of religion."

How then could Black say the states can't pass such a law?

Because the 14th Amendment makes it apply to states, too, by saying, "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States." The religious privileges are guaranteed by the First Amendment.

Black reasoned: the government has no power to "prescribe by law any particular form of prayer which is to be used as an official prayer in carrying on any government-sponsored activity."

He said: "Neither the fact that the prayer may be denominationally neutral, nor the fact that its observance on the part of the students is voluntary, can serve to free it from the limitations of the establishment clause."

But he was talking about a prayer written by a school board and imposed on the students.

He didn't answer this question: What about schools that require Bible-reading or recital of the Lord's Prayer every day but excuse children whose parents don't want them to be a party to it—even though they only have to listen and don't have to say anything?

Monday's decision was on two cases involving exactly that problem: one from Pennsylvania, one from Baltimore. In each case the court called the practice unconstitutional under that same "establishment clause" of the First Amendment.

If a state is going to compel student participation in some religious project—like studying the Bible as history—the court said the primary effect must be one that neither helps nor hinders religion.

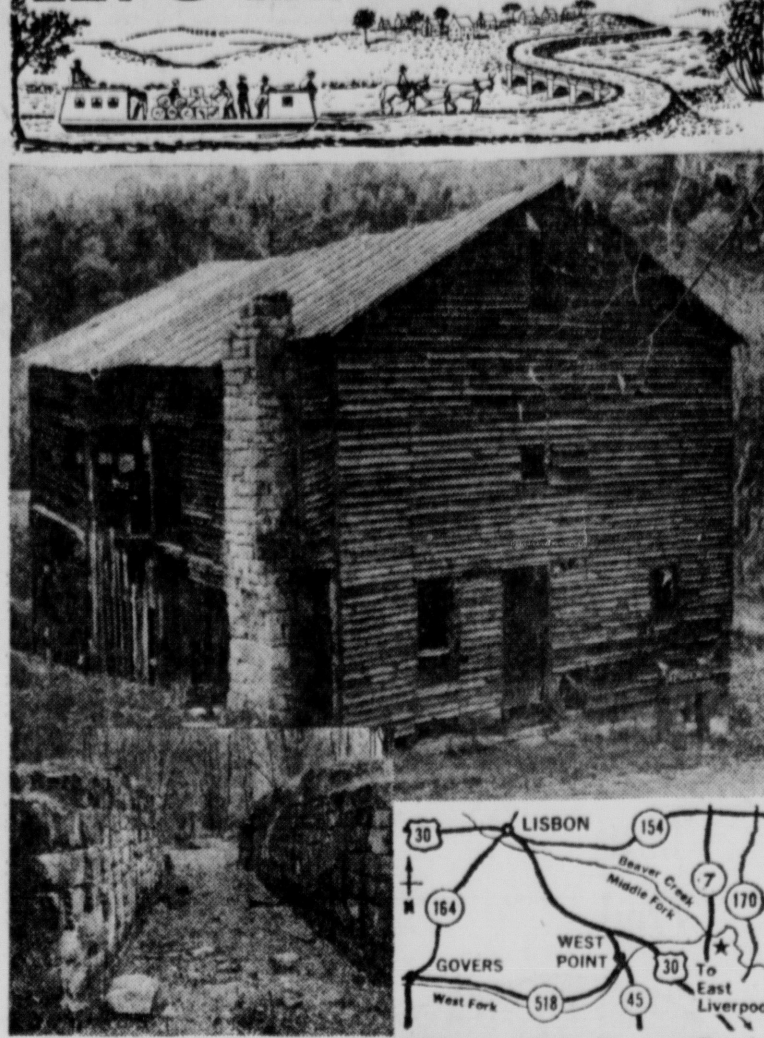

Clark said the purpose of the First Amendment is to "secure religious liberty in the individual by prohibiting any invasion thereof by civil authority."

He added: "It's no defense to urge that the religious practices here may be relatively minor encroachments on the First Amendment. The breach of neutrality that is today a trickling stream may all too soon become a raging torrent."

"In the relationship between man and religion, the state is firmly committed to a position of neutrality."

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO

This ruin of Gaston's Mill and the nearby Lock 36 on the old Sandy and Beaver Canal was a busy business scene back in 1840.

Today this is in the popular 1232-acre Beaver Creek State Forest and Park where thousands seek outdoor recreation in all seasons of the year, some eight miles east of Lisbon in Columbiana County.

James Whiteacre built this mill in 1837 and later it was purchased and operated by Philander Gaston. It used water power from the canal to grind flour and corn meal that went by canal boat down the Sandy and Beaver Canal to the Ohio River communities and into Pennsylvania.

The first paper mill west of the Alleghenies was built in 1805 on Little Beaver Creek near its mouth. By 1840, Columbiana County had a population of 40,394, largely because of the traffic on the canal and the Ohio River. This was a larger population than any other Ohio county with the exception of Hamilton County and Richland County.

About six miles directly west of Gaston's Mill is another historic spot which attracts many motoring families. This is the site of the surrender, July 26, 1863, of Confederate General John H. Morgan and some 700 of his cavalry raiders to Union forces on the West Branch of Little Beaver Creek near the town of West Point. This was the farthest north penetration of any Southern troops during the Civil War.

Mercury Project Booms Knowledge

EDITOR'S NOTE — Project Mercury left a vast legacy of experience and knowledge for future space flights. Howard Benedict, AP correspondent at Cape Canaveral, reports on Mercury's important contributions in the second of three articles.

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Project Mercury's original cost estimate of 200 million soared to more than twice that figure because of unforeseen problems sending men into space.

There are few who will dispute the high price tag. For Mercury—now officially ended—left a vast legacy of experience and knowledge which is being applied to the two-man Gemini program. Gemini will lay the groundwork for the Apollo man-to-moon effort.

Mercury's most important contribution was its demonstration that man can effectively perform useful tasks in space even after long exposure to weightlessness. "I think we proved man is a pretty good backup system to all these automatic systems," Air Force Maj. Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr., commented after his 22orbit flight which climaxed the program last month.

Jerome B. Hammack of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Manned Space Flight Center said: "Man as a positive factor contributing to mission success in the space environment has proven himself in Project Mercury."

Ankrom, Mac Units Mosquito Winners

Ankrom Lumber walloped Hill Implement, 21-1 and Mac's Good-year trounced Lewis Cook Insurance, 21-10, in two games scheduled yesterday in the Mosquito League.

The Lumbermen took an early lead at the Corwin diamond, scoring two runs in the first and another in the second before the implement players pushed across their run.

Leading 6-1 at the end of three innings, it was a 15-run explosion in the bottom of the fifth that put the winners well out front. The game was halted at the end of five frames because of the two-hour time limit.

Terry Leasure and Don Valentine teamed up to pitch a no-hit game for the Lumbermen, the first in the Mosquito League this year.

LEASURE, the starter, was credited with the win. He walked four and fanned eight. Valentine walked three and struck out five in relief.

The winning pitchers also aided their team at the plate as Leasure blasted a homerun, a triple, a double and a single in five trips and Valentine belted a pair of homers.

Scoring four runs, Bob Peters slugged a homerun, a double and a pair of singles. Dennis Leader tripled.

Art Foll was the losing pitcher. He fanned six, walked six and was touched for four hits. Max Wagner walked three struck out two and allowed five hits, while Steve Allison permitted three hits and walked six.

Hill's left eight runners on base. Ankrom's failed to score seven who reached base safely.

David Gillis and Ricky Metcalf backed up Randy Sprout's six-inning pitching performance with five and four hits respectively as Mac's downed Cooks at the Atwater diamond.

GILLIS hit a double and four singles in six trips, scoring three runs. Metcalf tripled, doubled and singled twice in five official at bats.

Sprout fanned 14, walked five

Entire Tiger Field Staff Given Sack

BOSTON (AP) — General Manager James A. Campbell of the Detroit Tigers announced today that Manager Bob Scheffing and his coaching staff are being replaced immediately.

The new manager will be Charley Dressen, former pilot at Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Washington and Milwaukee. Dressen currently is a scout for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Campbell said the change is made for the best interest of the club. The Tigers currently are in ninth place.

New coaches will be Bob Swift, the International League; Stubby Overmire, now manager of Jamestown in the New York-Pennsylvania League; and Pat Mullin, now a Tiger scout.

These three succeed Phil Cavaretta, Tom Ferrick and George Myatt.

Scheffing has been offered a position in the Tiger organization which he said he intends to accept. The three coaches have been paid off for the balance of the year.

It was Scheffing's third year as manager of the Tigers.

Savings Bank Tops Kochheiser For 4th Win

Unbeaten, in three starts, the Savings Bank made it four in a row, topping Kochheiser 6 to 2, last night at Ted Lewis Park in the Babe Ruth minors.

The Bankers, paced by the outstanding pitching of Neal Coleman, scored four runs in the third inning, more than enough to emerge victorious. In the game, called because of the time limit, Coleman fanned 15 batters and allowed only two hits both of them singles.

Dale Jenne, pitching for the Hardwaremen, fanned two and allowed 14 hits. None went for extra bases.

Massie went four for four for the winners, while Roy Sark managed two hits in two trips.

JOHN YOUNG got one of the Kochheiser singles and DeLong carded the other.

VFW was slated to play the Third National Bank, but due to lack of players, the game was ruled "no contest" by Bill Thomas, president of the Circleville Youth Baseball program. It will be rescheduled at a later date according to Thomas.

The Savings Bank nine now lead the league with a 4-0 record. The Hardwaremen stand even at 2-2.

Jet Pride Wins 6th Race at SD

Forrest Short guided Jet Pride to a win in 2:08.1 in the sixth race last night at Scioto Downs.

It was the first win in four starts at the Downs this year for the 8-year-old pacer, owned by George Fissell, 705 N. Pickaway St. The horse returned $12.40, $6.20 and $3.60 at the mutuel window.

Circleville Owned

Pacer Wins 4th Race

Hideaway Pat, a 5-year-old pacer owned by W. H. Arledge and trained and driven by Jim Arledge won its fourth consecutive race at Northfield Downs, Cleveland, last night.

Pacing the mile in 2:05.3, the Circleville owned and trained harness horse, paid $4.80 to win.

First baseman Jerry Sutton paced Michigan State's baseball team in homers with eight and in runs batted in with 34 this season. He hit .350 in 30 games.

Lindsey Nine Handed 1st Loss By Kiwanians

First Round in BR Majors Ends in Tie For Bakers, Kiwanis

Previously undefeated Lindsey's Bakery met its match last night in the form of a hard playing Kiwanis nine, losing by the slightest of margins, 4-3, at the Fairgrounds in Babe Ruth action.

The Kiwanians, paced by the hunting and hitting of Terry Campbell, fought their way into a tie for the league leadership with the Bakers.

Campbell went the route for the victory, giving up three runs on six scattered hits. He fanned four and walked four.

Dean hurled for the losers. He fanned ten men, issued five free passes and allowed four runs on 10 hits, four of them doubles.

GETTING two-baggers for the Kiwanians were Jeff Ankrom with two, Jack V a r b l e with one, and Campbell with one. Ronnie Allen went three-for-three, banging out a trio of singles.

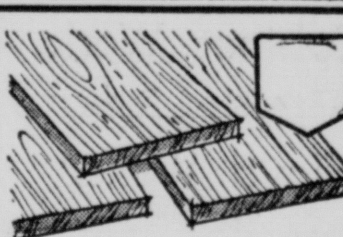

George Hill carried a big bat for the Bakers, nailing a double and a single in three appearances. The pitcher, Dean, helped his own cause by binging a pair of doubles.

Accounting for the other Baker hits were Bill Pritchard and Jim Crabtree, each with bingles.

The game marked the end of first round play for both teams. Each has a record of three wins and one loss.

DuPont, the only other team to complete the first round, has a 1-3 slate.

GE and LM. Butch, both 1-2, battle tonight for third slot in the loop.

PEP PILL FOR YANKS - - - By Alan Maver

Ankrom, Mac Units Mosquito Winners

Ankrom Lumber walloped Hill Implement, 21-1 and Mac's Good-year trounced Lewis Cook Insurance, 21-10, in two games scheduled yesterday in the Mosquito League.

The Lumbermen took an early lead at the Corwin diamond, scoring two runs in the first and another in the second before the Implement players pushed across their run.

Leading 6-1 at the end of three innings, it was a 15-run explosion in the bottom of the fifth that put the winners well out front. The game was halted at the end of five frames because of the two-hour time limit.

Terry Leasure and Don Valentine teamed up to pitch a no-hit game for the Lumbermen, the first in the Mosquito League this year.

LEASURE, the starter, was credited with the win. He walked four and fanned eight. Valentine walked three and struck out five in relief.

The winning pitchers also aided their team at the plate as Leasure blasted a homerun, a triple, a double and a single in five trips and Valentine belted a pair of homers.

Scoring four runs, Bob Peters slugged a homerun, a double and a pair of singles. Dennis Leader tripled.

Art Foll was the losing pitcher. He fanned six, walked six and was touched for four hits. Max Wagner walked three struck out two and allowed five hits, while Steve Allison permitted three hits and walked six.

Hill's left eight runners on base. Ankrom's failed to score seven who reached base safely.

David Gillis and Ricky Metcalf backed up Randy Sprout's six-inning pitching performance with five and four hits respectively as Mac's downed Cooks at the Atwater diamond.

GILLIS hit a double and four singles in six trips, scoring three runs. Metcalf tripled, doubled and singled twice in five official at bats.

Sprout fanned 14, walked five

Coke Defeats Ralston, 17-2

Win Assures Cokemen Of First Round Title

Coca-Cola wrapped up the first round championship yesterday in the Little League majors, defeating Ralston Purina, 17-2.

It was the second loss for the Millers while the Cokemen are undefeated.

All teams in the majors have lost at least two tilts with the exception of the undefeated Coke unit which has only one game remaining in the first round.

Dale Byrd was the winning pitcher while Andy Blanton was charged with the loss.

Only 2,544 Pay To See Title Bout

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore's first fight championship in 21 years may have proved the city's boxing fan went out with the squeeze bunt in favor of the home run in baseball.

Two inside stylists, Ralph Dupas and Denny Moyer, drew only 2,544 paid fans Monday night as Dupas won a 15-round decision and retained his middleweight title. Sponsors had optimistically expected four times that many in the comfortable nine-month old Civic Center seating 13,000.

The three officials all voted in favor of Dupas keeping the title he took from Moyer six weeks ago by a split decision.

Juillera Quits Post As Findlay Grid Pilot

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Lou Juillera, who became one of Ohio's most successful high school football coaches before turning to the collegiate ranks, has resigned as coach and athletic director of Findlay College.

Juillera said Monday that he is leaving to take a similar job at Northwood Institute at Midland, Mich. A successor has not been named, but speculation here centers on Don Renninger, Juillera's assistant.

22 Fined in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fines ranging from $5 to 25 were handed out in municipal court Monday to 22 men charged with either disorderly conduct or intoxication during racial disturbances last weekend.

Entire Tiger Field Staff Given Sack

BOSTON (AP) — General Manager James A. Campbell of the Detroit Tigers announced today that Manager Bob Scheffing and his coaching staff are being replaced immediately.

The new manager will be Charley Dressen, former pilot at Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Washington and Milwaukee. Dressen currently is a scout for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Campbell said the change is made for the best interest of the club. The Tigers currently are in ninth place.

New coaches will be Bob Swift, the International League; Stubby Overmire, now manager of Jamestown in the New York-Pennsylvania League; and Pat Mullin, now a Tiger scout.

These three succeed Phil Cavarretta, Tom Ferrick and George Myatt.

Scheffing has been offered a position in the Tiger organization which he said he intends to accept. The three coaches have been paid off for the balance of the year.

It was Scheffing's third year as manager of the Tigers.

Al Butts, captain-elect of Columbia's football team, has been elected to captain the Lion baseball team of 1964. The Poughkeepsie, N. Y., native also captained the nine this spring.

CUPID CAUGHT HIM—While at Villanova, Frank Budd ranked as the fastest human, but he's lost some of his speed because Cupid has caught him. The bride is the former Barbara Jordan and the wedding scene was Ambler, Pa. Budd now is a member of the Philadelphia Eagles' pro grid team.

Savings Bank Tops Kochheiser For 4th Win

Unbeaten, in three starts, the Savings Bank made it four in a row, topping Kochheiser 6 to 2, last night at Ted Lewis Park in the Babe Ruth minors.

The Bankers, paced by the outstanding pitching of Neal Coleman, scored four runs in the third inning, more than enough to emerge victorious. In the game, called because of the time limit, Coleman fanned 15 batters and allowed only two hits both of them singles.

Dale Jenne, pitching for the Hardwaremen, fanned two and allowed 14 hits. None went for extra bases.

Massie went four for four for the winners, while Roy Sark managed two hits in two trips.

JOHN YOUNG got one of the Kochheiser singles and DeLong carded the other.

VFV was slated to play the Third National Bank, but due to lack of players, the game was ruled "no contest" by Bill Thomas, president of the Circleville Youth Baseball program. It will be rescheduled at a later date according to Thomas.

The Savings Bank nine now lead the league with a 4-0 record. The Hardwaremen stand even at 2-2.

Chiefs, Indians Shine in IL Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Syracuse and Indianapolis took the International League spotlight Monday night.

Syracuse's 25-year-old right-hander, Howie Kopitz, had a no-hitter going for seven innings as the Chiefs whipped the Richmond Virginians 5-1 and strengthened their Northern Division lead over Buffalo.

Indianapolis shut out Arkansas 8-0 behind Mike Joyce's 4-hit pitching and Gene Stephens' four runs batted in. Rain caused postponement of the Columbus at Atlanta game, and a doubleheader will be played tonight. The other clubs were not scheduled.

Jockey Earle Sande made eight tries in the Preakness and his one victory came astride Gallant Fox in 1930.

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. has been making friends with a minority group—gold-watchers—by scheduling three important tournaments among its weekend programs this month.

For the sake of both golf watchers and NBC, one hopes that next week's National Open at Brookline Mass., does not wind up as did the telecast of Sunday's Thunderbird Tournament, with the outcome to be decided off camera.

As Arnold Palmer and Paul Hanesy battled it out on the 18th hole Sunday the suspense was almost unbearable. Bud Palmer communicated the tension when his voice dropped to a whisper as he said, "If Palmer sinks this putt he will win the tournament."

Palmer missed the putt and tied with Hanesy. The next moment, Palmer was calmly telling us there would be an immediate sudden death playoff and advising us to follow it on radio.

Presumably, a lot of people who were all wrapped up in the game snorted in disappointment and disgust when NBC moved back to regular programming—a rerun of a feeble comedy series called

"McKeever and the Colonel." The network had already skipped "Meet the Press" to stay with the tournament, but calling it quits before the final playoff by Palmer was like chopping off a whodunit just before revealing that the butler was the culprit.

NBC cancelled tonight's "Chet Huntley Reporting" for one of its "instant news specials" analyzing Britain's Profumo affair.

The network's flexible news department also put together a special half-hour report Monday night about the Supreme Court decision on Bible reading in the public schools. It stole a march on "CBS Reports" which will give the decision a more elaborate analysis and commentary Wednesday evening.

While the entertainment departments of network television have slipped into vacation-time languor the news departments are buzzing with activity.

All the networks will cover President Kennedy's scheduled European trip with huge staffs. All plan many special programs covering every stop of his journey.

Recommended tonight: "Here's Edie," ABC, 10:30-11 (EDT)—last special for Edie Adams for this season.

2 OU Golfers Sparkle In NCAA Qualifiers
WICHITA (AP)—Ohio University had two players among the top scorers Monday in the first round of qualifying play for the National Collegiate Athletic Association's golf championship.

Joe Reichley toured the Wichita Country Club course in par 70 and Nick Karl finished with a 72. Reichley was just three strokes back of Joe Nixon of Oklahoma State, who led the 196-man field with a sizzling 67. Medalist and team competition will be decided by 36 holes of qualifying play which concludes today.

Tribe Labels Lefty Pitcher As Dependable

Jack Kralick Hurls 1-0 Win over Nats For Streaking Indians

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dependable Jack has become Dependable Jack.

That would be Jack Kralick, the lean left-hander who's been on a tear for Cleveland's streaking Indians.

Considered by the Minnesota Twins the southpaw they were most able to do without, Kralick was on the trading block for some time before he was dealt off to Cleveland for right-hander Jim Perry six weeks ago.

He's now an Indian chief, with a string of six straight victories going.

Kralick's latest triumph came Monday night as Cleveland edged Washington 1-0 with a gift run in the eighth inning. Jack threw a five-hitter in basting tough-luck loser Jim Duckworth, who yielded the game's only marker when he balked after committing a two-base throwing error.

With its latest winning streak at five, the fourth-place Tribe now stands just three games behind New York's front-running Yankees in the tight American League race.

In the only other AL game, the slumping Baltimore Orioles revamped their line-up, got a home run and a neat pitching job from lefty Mike McCormick, and beat Boston 7-2. The result left the Orioles and the Red Sox also three games off the pace Boston two percentage points ahead of Cleveland and Baltimore two points back.

The St. Louis Cardinals took over first place in the National League, while the Los Angeles Dodgers advanced to second and the San Francisco Giants fell from the top to third. St. Louis trounced the New York Mets 8-1, and Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers blanked the Giants 2-0. Also in the NL, Philadelphia trounced Cincinnati 4-2 and Pittsburgh beat Milwaukee 9-3.

Manager Billy Hitchcock shuffled the Orioles, who won only their fourth in their last 23 games with the victory over Boston. He didn't start first baseman Jim Gentile or outfielder Russ Snyder, moved John Orsino from catcher to first, put Joe Giamberini into the outfield, and juggled the batting order.

Giamberini responded with a three-run homer that capped Baltimore's six-run fifth inning. McCormick, the ex-Giant star, tossed a six-hitter in his first complete game in the American League.

Fine Weather Is Seen for Clay's Match

LONDON (AP)—London's weatherman today gave a favorable forecast as Cassius Clay remained firm favorite for his open-air 10-rounder against British heavyweight champion Henry Cooper at Wembley Stadium tonight.

The prediction was for rain in the afternoon followed by a dry and sunny evening.

This was music indeed to promoter Jack Solomons, who anticipates a capacity crowd of 55,000. Solomons never issues his takings, but he reckons to gross at least 280,000.

For Clay, the 21-year-old "Louisville Lip," the time had come to translate his welter of words into deeds—or face the scorn of a critical crowd.

Cooper, 28, was quietly confident and spoke of a plan he had worked out to deal with Clay's speed.

While Britons have cared little for Clay's talk they have been impressed by his workouts.

Cooper has had 28 fights, has won 19 and drawn. He's a slow starter but has a good left hook.

Clay, unbeaten in 18 fights, has called Cooper a "bum, a no-good, and a cripple."

The American has extremely fast hands and punches almost as quick as he talks. As he says himself: "I'm like greased lightning."

Umpire Barlick Plans Return to NL Roster
CINCINNATI (AP)—Veteran National League umpire Al Barlick who said last weekend he was quitting baseball, will be back on the job Friday.

GOP Is Split On Civil Rights

Private Business Role Brings Party Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans split today over a leadership effort to make the integration of private business out from under President Kennedy's proposed civil rights program.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., gave his support to a proposal by Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to make the integration of business firms a voluntary community matter.

But Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., insisted in a separate interview that Congress has ample power to ban discrimination by businesses dealing with the public and "it should exercise the responsibility it has so long neglected."

Dirksen asked the Senate Republican Policy Committee to pass on his compromise proposal. He indicated that except for this feature he is prepared to go along with a civil rights package Kennedy plans to send to Congress Wednesday.

Kennedy scheduled a breakfast discussion of the proposals with Democratic leaders before talking them over with 10 governors, including four Republicans, at a luncheon conference.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he believes he and Dirksen can get together to sponsor a bill which would include most of the administration's program.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, said this program would include a provision to outlaw segregation in public places and in firms dealing in accommodations and services which do a yearly gross business of $175,000.

Other provisions would strengthen enforcement of voting rights, permit the attorney general to institute school desegregation suits, set up a community relations service and make the civil rights commission a permanent body.

Blue Ribbon Edges Bankers; First, Ward's Battle to Tie

Two games were played in the little league minors yesterday. First National Bank and Ward's Market battled to a 13 to 13 deadlock at the Fairgrounds and Blue Ribbon Dairy squeezed past Second National Bank, 9 to 8, at the Southend diamond.

Randy Martin hurled a complete game for First National, giving up 10 hits.

Kelley Leatherwood pitched the first three innings for Ward's, but was knocked from the box in the fourth inning after giving up seven runs. He was replaced by Tom Wickerham.

In the free swinging contest, Jim Ballou belted a homer and a single in two trips for the Bankers. Harry Smith poled a triple and single in two trips and Bill Huber connected for a triple and single in four turns.

FOR THE MARKETMEN, Cook poked a homerun and a double in two trips. Mike Sapp counted a triple and double in two official trips.

Since the game ended in a tie, it will be replayed from the point where the tilt was halted.

In the Blue Ribbon — Bank tilt, the Thomas duo went the route for the victory. Steve Thomas started and lasted four innings before being replaced in favor of Tom Thomas. Steve whiffed nine while Tom fanned one.

Jim Mogan started for the Bankers. He lasted five innings then was replaced in favor of Dick Radcliff. Between them they fanned seven batters.

Still the hitters had a field day. For the Dairymen, Dollison belted two homers and a double. Russ poled a homer for the dairy nine.

Radcliff socked two triples in a losing cause.

EVEN though they lost, the bankers stayed close to the hard hitting dairymen. But the game

Pair of Surprises Awaiting Fans of Obedient Dr. Kildare

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Richard Chamberlain fans who have grown accustomed to his pace as the obedient intern Kildare are in for a surprise or two.

They are:
1. A feature movie, "Twilight of Honor," in which he plays a relentless defense lawyer who represents a client in an "unwritten law" murder trial.

2. Next season's "Dr. Kildare" on television, in which he will graduate to resident physician and be able to stand up to gruff old Dr. Gillespie.

Dick Chamberlain was finishing up 1. and getting ready to start 2. as he paused for a lunch in the MGM commissary. Unlike the grumbly Dr. Ben Casey, his counterpart on another network, NBC's medic seemed like a man at peace with the show world he plunged into a mere five years ago.

He didn't even seem terribly concerned about overwork, and exulted in almost a full week of vacation between the film and start of his third season in television.

Dick has been much pleased with the change of pace (and profession) in "Twilight of Honor" and he is delighted that he will move up from intern in the next season of "Dr. Kildare."

"A character can be interesting only if he is allowed to grow," he reasoned. "I would have been pretty tired to play Kildare the same way I did the first two seasons, especially in his relationship to Gillespie."

"Now I'll get a chance to be more firm in my judgments and to have it out with Ray Massie, if need be. I don't mean that I would be disrespectful. One of the things I found in research at UCLA was that the veteran doctors always commanded the utmost respect of the newcomers on the staff."

How much longer will he continue as Kildare?

"Ideally," he said, "I would like to do just one more season, then make another feature and then do a play—if someone would be foolish enough to hire me."

He was speaking ideally. It is highly improbable that MGM and NBC would cut loose one of its most valuable assets, Dick being firmly under contract for another four years. So he'll doubtless continue with his television practice, with his annual vacation devoted to making a feature for the theaters.

Pythian Groups Hold Services For Deceased

Memorial Services for deceased knights and Pythian sisters were conducted last night at Philos Lodge No. 64.

Individual carnations were placed on a cross at the altar for Laura Mantle, deceased Pythian sister and for deceased knights Melvin Rinehart, Harry Gordon, Charles Mead and Wade Cook. Potted flowers were presented to families of the deceased.

Lucille Bostwick, Dorothy Styers and Clarissa Talbot comprised the Pythian Sister committee. On the knights committee were Harry Styers, Azel Laughlin and Raymond Winner.

Mrs. Caniz Carmean presented a reading in memory of the deceased Pythian sister, Mrs. Jean Ankrum placed the flower on the cross.

RAYMOND WINNER offered a reading for the knights. Flowers were placed on the cross in memory of deceased brothers by Robert Denman, George Mast, Orwell Barr and Turney Glick.

Miss Margie Carmean served as accompanist for singing. Harry Styers presided at the service.

Local SS Office Hours To Change

E. H. Biedenholz, manager of the Chillicothe district office of the Social Security Administration, announced today that the Contact Station hours for Circleville will be 9-11 a. m. effective July 1.

A representative of the Chillicothe office will visit Circleville the second Thursday in each month and may be contacted at the Post Office.

Biedenholz emphasized that the change in office hours is designed to permit a more efficient use of the representative's time. No reduction in service to the public is intended, he said. Those persons having business to transact with the Social Security Administration in this area are asked to contact the local representative.

However, Biedenholz said, the Chillicothe district office is fully staffed to handle claims and inquiries with a minimum of delay and area residents are welcome six days a week. The office is located at 32 W. Main Street in Chillicothe.

Army Offers Positions to Women Grads

Women college graduates in this area may be eligible for immediate executive positions as officers in the United States Army, according to Sgt. Stanley Nelson, local army recruiter.

Direct commissions in the Women's Army Corps are being offered to qualified applicants who have a BS or BA degree from an accredited college or university. A variety of career fields are now available to women officers in such areas as personnel, information, intelligence, administration, finance and management.

In addition to the prestige of an executive position, these women officers are given equal opportunity with their male counterparts for advancement, salary and benefits. They serve both in the continental United States and in overseas locations such as Germany, France and Japan. Women Army officers may be single or married.

Local women between the ages of 20 and 32 may secure further information by visiting Sgt. Nelson on Thursdays at the Post Office.

It was announced the July meeting will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stubbs.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

HITCH: The Defense Department's comptroller says he and his civilian analysts "are in no way attempting to usurp the services' function of the design of our forces."

Charles J. Hitch, who holds the rank of assistant secretary of defense, said his staff of analysts — called "whiz kids" by their detractors—work with the armed services as advisers "and not as overlords."

"Much of what has been said and written recently has centered on the 'computer approach' to defense problems," the comptroller told a meeting at the Industrial College of the Armed Forces Monday.

He added: "One might almost believe that the denizens of the Pentagon no longer need to tax their brains with questions of national defense—that, buried down in some dark corner of the Pentagon, we have built an omniscient computer—that any time a problem of choice comes up, all we have to do is ask this electronic brain, and then just sit back and read the answer."

"Of course, this is far from so. In fact, this impression is diametrically opposite to the true picture."

NO NEWS CONFERENCE: President Kennedy will not hold a news conference this week.

Pair of Surprises Awaiting Fans of Obedient Dr. Kildare

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Richard Chamberlain fans who have grown accustomed to his pace as the obedient intern Kildare are in for a surprise or two.

They are:
1. A feature movie, "Twilight of Honor," in which he plays a relentless defense lawyer who represents a client in an "unwritten law" murder trial.

2. Next season's "Dr. Kildare" on television, in which he will graduate to resident physician and be able to stand up to gruff old Dr. Gillespie.

Dick Chamberlain was finishing up 1. and getting ready to start 2. as he paused for a lunch in the MGM commissary. Unlike the grumbly Dr. Ben Casey, his counterpart on another network, NBC's medic seemed like a man at peace with the show world he plunged into a mere five years ago.

He didn't even seem terribly concerned about overwork, and exulted in almost a full week of vacation between the film and start of his third season in television.

Dick has been much pleased with the change of pace (and profession) in "Twilight of Honor" and he is delighted that he will move up from intern in the next season of "Dr. Kildare."

"A character can be interesting only if he is allowed to grow," he reasoned. "I would have been pretty tired to play Kildare the same way I did the first two seasons, especially in his relationship to Gillespie."

"Now I'll get a chance to be more firm in my judgments and to have it out with Ray Massie, if need be. I don't mean that I would be disrespectful. One of the things I found in research at UCLA was that the veteran doctors always commanded the utmost respect of the newcomers on the staff."

How much longer will he continue as Kildare?

"Ideally," he said, "I would like to do just one more season, then make another feature and then do a play—if someone would be foolish enough to hire me."

He was speaking ideally. It is highly improbable that MGM and NBC would cut loose one of its most valuable assets. Dick being firmly under contract for another four years. So he'll doubtless continue with his television practice, with his annual vacation devoted to making a feature for the theaters.

RAYMOND WINNER offered a reading for the knights. Flowers were placed on the cross in memory of deceased brothers by Robert Denman, George Mast, Orwell Barr and Turney Glick.

Miss Margie Carmean served as accompanist for singing. Harry Styers presided at the service.

Local SS Office Hours To Change

E. H. Biedenholz, manager of the Chillicothe district office of the Social Security Administration, announced today that the Contact Station hours for Circleville will be 9-11 a. m. effective July 1.

A representative of the Chillicothe office will visit Circleville the second Thursday in each month and may be contacted at the Post Office.

Biedenholz emphasized that the change in office hours is designed to permit a more efficient use of the representative's time. No reduction in service to the public is intended, he said. Those persons having business to transact with the Social Security Administration in this area are asked to contact the local representative.

However, Biedenholz said, the Chillicothe district office is fully staffed to handle claims and inquiries with a minimum of delay and area residents are welcome six days a week. The office is located at 32 W. Main Street in Chillicothe.

Accused Torch Slayer Is Ruled To Be Sane

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Robert K. Domer is expected to be returned here Wednesday to stand trial for the torch slaying of an Akron man, 55-year-old Howard F. Riddle.

Domer, 43-year-old investment broker who has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to the murder charge, was ruled sane at Lima State hospital, authorities said Monday. Domer disappeared from his home on April 1. Three weeks later his car was found burning in a field in Wayne County with a man's body, identified as Riddle's inside.

Suspended Policeman Is Accused of Rape

CLEVELAND (AP) — An 18-year-old baby sitter said she was raped in the Brook Park home of a suspended Cleveland policeman, Brook Park police reported Monday night.

The 30-year-old patrolman was arrested, but his name was not disclosed. He had been suspended from Cleveland's force April 1 on charges of engaging in a drunken brawl, but is appealing the suspension.

Memorial Services for deceased knights and Pythian sisters were conducted last night at Philos Lodge No. 64.

Individual carnations were placed on a cross at the altar for Laura Mantle, deceased Pythian sister and for deceased knights Melvin Rinehart, Harry Gordon, Charles Mead and Wade Cook. Potted flowers were presented to families of the deceased.

Lucille Bostwick, Dorothy Styers and Clarissa Talbot comprised the Pythian Sister committee. On the knights committee were Harry Styers, Azel Laughlin and Raymond Winner.

Mrs. Caniz Carmean presented a reading in memory of the deceased Pythian sister, Mrs. Jean Ankrum placed the flower on the cross.

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Two light plane crashes within a two-hour period Monday night left one southwestern Ohioan dead and two others hospitalized.

Dead is Henry McCrary, 36, of Morrow, whose throat was slashed as his single-engine plane crashed on his private air strip about 8 p.m.

Flavius P. Rhodes, 22, of Cincinnati, the other occupant of the plane was injured seriously. It first had been reported that Rhodes was piloting the plane but the state highway patrol later said McCrary was the pilot.

Rhodes told the patrol that the plane's engine "just conked out" after take-off.

Wayne P. Hill, 50, of Xenia, was injured when his two-seater Cessna hit high tension wires while trying to land on a farm air strip two miles west of Wilmington.

Hill, whose condition was listed as good, was able to walk away from the wreck.

Witnesses at Morrow said Rhodes' engine began spouting black smoke. The plane rose to about 100 feet, flipped to the right and fell sideways to the ground.

Army Offers Positions to Women Grads

Women college graduates in this area may be eligible for immediate executive positions as officers in the United States Army, according to Sgt. Stanley Nelson, local army recruiter.

Direct commissions in the Women's Army Corps are being offered to qualified applicants who have a BS or BA degree from an accredited college or university. A variety of career fields are now available to women officers in such areas as personnel, information, intelligence, administration, finance and management.

In addition to the prestige of an executive position, these women officers are given equal opportunity with their male counterparts for advancement, salary and benefits. They serve both in the continental United States and in overseas locations such as Germany, France and Japan. Women Army officers may be single or married.

Local women between the ages of 20 and 32 may secure further information by visiting Sgt. Nelson on Thursdays at the Post Office.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

HITCH: The Defense Department's comptroller says he and his civilian analysts "are in no way attempting to usurp the services' function of the design of our forces."

Charles J. Hitch, who holds the rank of assistant secretary of defense, said his staff of analysts—called "whiz kids" by their detractors—work with the armed services as advisers "and not as overlords."

"Much of what has been said and written recently has centered on the 'computer approach' to defense problems," the comptroller told a meeting at the Industrial College of the Armed Forces Monday.

He added: "One might almost believe that the denizens of the Pentagon no longer need to tax their brains with questions of national defense—that, buried down in some dark corner of the Pentagon, we have built an omniscient computer—that any time a problem of choice comes up, all we have to do is ask this electronic brain, and then just sit back and read the answer."

"Of course, this is far from so. In fact, this impression is diametrically opposite to the true picture."

NO NEWS CONFERENCE: President Kennedy will not hold a news conference this week.

SUPERSONIC PLANE: The House Commerce Committee will open hearings Thursday on President Kennedy's request for development of a supersonic jet passenger plane with government help.

SKIN DIVERS SEEK BODY OF BOY IN LAKE ERIE

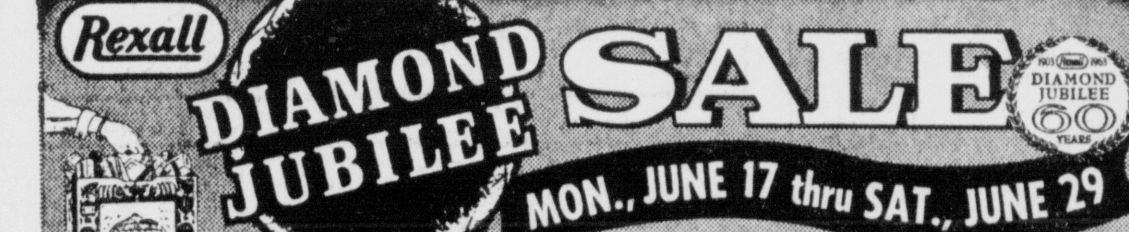

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coast Guard skin divers continued probing Lake Erie for the body of a 10-year-old boy who, witnesses said, toppled into the water while trying to scoop up some minnows.

Authorities theorized that the body of Jackie Mitchell was swept away from the shoreline Monday in a 20-mile-an-hour current created by water gushing from a large pipe that empties into the lake from the municipal light plant.

Kent State To Offer Classes in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Kent State University will offer daytime extensive classes in downtown Cleveland next Fall for college graduates planning to become elementary school teachers.

Course will be the same as the education courses taught in Kent State night extensions.
